MacArthur Rips Truman At Seattle

Following Policy Leading to Ruin, General Charges

SEATTLE, Nov. 14—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur last night told Seattle and the nation that the Truman administration is following a policy which, if continued, can lead to the ruination of the country.

The general devoted only 3 minutes of a 45 minute address to the Seattle centennial which he was invited here to open and to which labor groups had urged him to confine his remarks. But he referred frequently to the pioneer spirit and attitude in his blistering attack on the federal government.

He never mentioned Mr. Truman or the Democratic party by name—but he left no doubt that he felt the ruinous processes of which he spoke could be halted only by change of administration.

"Up To People"

"The people have it in their hands," he declared in his speech which was nationally broadcast, "to restore morality, wisdom and vision to the direction of our foreign and domestic affairs."

And immediately one of the men who had asked him to refrain from discussing politics while opening the city's 100th anniversary program charged him with being a candidate for president of the United States.

The charge was made by Cong. Hugh Mitchell (D-Wash) in a statement issued within minutes after the general concluded his talk on the University of Washington campus—where political speakers normally are banned.

"I have long suspected that MacArthur fancied himself in the role as the Republican nominee. I am more firmly of that opinion after listening to him tonight," Mitchell said.

MacArthur told the 9,000 persons who squeezed into the university's athletic pavilion that the administration's blunders are leading to a third world war, its domestic policies are drifting into socialism and spending and taxing are imperiling the whole structure of the republic.

Raps Spending

"Expenditure upon expenditure, extravagance upon extravagance have so burdened our people with taxation and fed the forces of inflation, that our traditionally high standard of life has become largely fictitious and illusory," he said.

The Democratic leadership, he charged, is engaging in bombastic and provocative statements, which increase world tensions. It also, he said, is "taking steps which inexorably tend to lead towards war."

Internal pressures, the audience was told, "have already caused us to depart sharply from the course so long held toward national strength and moral greatness. Our economic stature built under the incentives of free enterprise is imperiled by our drift through the back door of confiscatory taxation toward state socialism."

MacArthur turned his verbal barrage on President Truman's recent security order, which he termed "an information blackout . . . the like of which was never before attempted even during war."

Free Speech Challenged

"Freedom of speech and expression are no longer untrammeled," he charged. "Slanted propaganda and abusive language are used to suppress criticism of the public administration and discourage dissemination of the truth."

The speech climaxed a half day of participation in centennial opening ceremonies, which included travel along a 20-mile route lined by a crowd estimated by police chief George Eastman at 300,000. It was the largest crowd in the history of the city.

The university pavilion was packed for the address but a crowd which had been expected to fill a sizable portion of the adjoining 55,000 seat stadium failed to materialize when a drizzling downpour set in. Those who braved the elements were brought inside to line the walls, bringing the total attendance to an estimated 9,000.

Korea Is 'Truman War,' Taft Charges

Asserts U.S. Unsafe From War With Truman in Office

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 14—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) posed a threat last night that the United States can not be safe from war as long as President Truman remains in office.

In a blunt, hard-hitting attack on American foreign policy, Taft described the Korean hostilities as a "Truman war."

"He (the president) usurped the power of Congress to make that war," said the Ohio lawmaker. "It's a Truman war. He did it, I believe without the slightest authority."

And in one brief mention of the Atlantic Pact and its provisions for sending several U. S. divisions to Europe, Taft caustically said:

"The Atlantic Pact did not justify the sending of any troops to Europe."

Taft spoke at the closing dinner meeting of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

The Ohio senator told newsmen upon his arrival here yesterday that he did not plan at this time to enter his name in Pennsylvania's presidential preference primary election April 22.

Taft's consent, however, is not

Hunt Missing Plane With 36 Aboard

Bad Weather Hampers Europe Search For Air Force Transport

WIESBADEN, Germany, Nov. 14—(AP)—Heavy icing and thick pea-soup clouds hampered the aerial search today for a missing U. S. Air Force flying boxcar feared down in the mountains of southeast France with 36 American military personnel aboard.

More than 60 planes, including some from U. S. Air bases in England, took off at dawn to look for the big twin-engine C-82 transport which disappeared yesterday while flying 30 passengers and a crew of six from Frankfurt's Rhine Main airport to the big U. S. supply base at Bordeaux.

Air Force officials said the passengers were 29 enlisted airmen and one soldier, while the crew included three officers.

Were to Organize Pool

The airmen were being flown to Bordeaux to organize a motor pool and the soldier was returning from a furlough in Germany.

The plane was last heard from shortly before noon yesterday, over the Moulins area of central France, 160 miles southwest of Paris. Air Force officials feared the big ship might have hit a mountain peak.

Thick fog blanketed mountains in that section yesterday. Aerial searchers last night could find

Rule Galion Boy Shot By Accident

Gun Recovered In Creek Where Companion Threw It

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 14 — Galion police yesterday found the gun which was accidentally discharged Sunday seriously wounding six-year-old Stephen Freeman.

The shooting, at the hands of a companion, was ruled accidental by police.

The gun was found by Galion patrolmen in three feet of water in the middle of the Whetstone creek.

Frederick Spears, 14, who admitted accidentally shooting the Freeman boy, told police yesterday he entered a Galion home and took the gun Friday and left it near the creek.

The two boys then went to the creek Sunday afternoon to play and Spears produced the gun. He said he did not know how to work it and as he pulled the hammer back, he pressed the trigger and the gun went off.

The bullet struck his companion in the chest, and went out his back, just touching his lung. Spears then threw the gun in the creek and ran off to get help, but his companion followed him and they met a neighbor who took him to the hospital.

The Freeman boy has shown a marked improvement, Galion hospital attaches reported today. He is reported in "fairly good" condition.

The case has been turned over to Crawford County Juvenile Officer E. T. Talbott for further investigation, although no charges are to be filed, it was reported today. The case is considered an accidental shooting, with the Spears boy, a victim of circumstances, Galion police said.

U.S. Signs Arms Pact With Tito

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP)—The United States and Yugoslavia today signed an agreement covering terms on which American military aid will be extended to Marshall Tito's Communist regime.

It provides for an American advisory mission at Belgrade which will check on the use made of munitions supplied under the new foreign aid program.

Council Hits Phone Rate Hike Request

Authorizes Solicitor To Oppose Plea At PUCO Hearing Dec. 7

A resolution protesting the rate increase requested by the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. was approved unanimoulsy last night by City Council.

The resolution authorizes the city solicitor's office to "strenuously oppose" the emergency request of the company for an interim rate increase.

Council already is on record opposing the original request for an increase filed by the company last June 28. Mayor Harold F. Robinson, after the request, promised his administration would spearhead the opposition to the increase.

Emergency Request

The company filed an emergency application for an interim rate increase last week, seeking rate increases to be effective until the PUCO can act on its June 28 request. C. E. Williams, president of the company, said the emergency increase was necessary immediately since advancing costs of operation and higher federal income taxes have adversely affected the company's income.

The original increase would raise the phone rates in the Marion area from 75 cents to $2 monthly, depending on the type of service.

A hearing on the emergency request is scheduled Dec. 7 before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. George Piacentino assistant city solicitor and solicitor-elect, told Council he wanted instructions from Council before he started his fight against the increase. He said he was interested since the hearing on the regular rate increase probably will not be held until next summer and by that time he will have succeeded John Watters as solicitor.

Conkle Makes Motion

A motion was made by Fourth Ward Concilman Louis Conkle that the resolution be adopted. Councilman-at-large Tom Clark seconded the motion and a unanimous vote for approval was given.

Mr. Piacentino said he had no definite plans for opposing request at the Dec. 7 hearing. He indicated, however, he would travel to Columbus in the near future to make a complete study of similar cases.

The resolution was passed by Council after an inquiry from Mr. Watters and Mr. Piacentino as to what type opposition the city should furnish. Several members of Council said they had received demands from Marionites that Council oppose the request. Second Ward Councilman James Jenkins reported at least 400 resi-

Rehearsal Set Tonight For "1951 Follies"

Members of the cast of "Follies of 1951" will wend their weary ways home in the small hours of tomorrow morning after tonight's dress rehearsal at the Palace Theater. The rehearsal will start around 11:30, after the theater's schedule of movies is completed. Last year's "Follies" rehearsal lasted until 4 the next morning.

Two performances of the show will be given, at 8:15 Thursday and Friday nights. Proceeds will be used by the Junior Service Guild, sponsors of the project, to finance a kindergarten, a clothing center, and a Community Arts Project, and to carry out other welfare work in the city and county.

Seat reservations for Friday's performance started today. Tickets for both performances will be available at the boxoffice of the Palace Theater until curtain time.

Atrocities In Korea Cited By 8th Army

75 Per Cent Of Victims Americans, Legal Officer Says

PUSAN, KOREA, Nov. 14—(AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army's top lawyer today said Communists have killed at least 5,790 United Nations prisoners of war, other than South Korean troops, in atrocity slayings since the start of the war.

Col. James M. Hanley of Seattle, chief of the Eighth Army's judge advocate section, said in a statement nearly 75 per cent of the listed victims were Americans and the rest volunteers from other countries.

"The figures compiled by the United Nations command are far from complete," Hanley said, "but show a record of killings and barbarism unique even in Communist China."

Doesn't Include Koreans

He said unlabulated atrocity killings of South Korean soldiers probably far outnumber the tabulated losses and do not even touch atrocity slayings of Korean civilians.

Hanley said South Korean military casualties in general have run at least twice that of other U.N. countries.

He said also that North Korean and Chinese Red troops have shown particular animosity toward South Korean soldiers and there have been occasions when captured South Koreans were murdered but other U.N. troops taken with them were spared.

Hanley's statement estimated about 250,000 Korean civilians had been killed by Communists since the start of the fighting.

Slay Masses of Koreans

He said 25,575 political prisoners and local South Korean officials were killed in the Red retreat to North Korea in the fall of 1950. An additional 10,284 North Korean civilians were killed in October as the North Korean army made a further retreat toward the Yalu River border between Korea and Manchuria. Most of the latter were labeled "reactionaries," Hanley said.

Hanley's figures showed that North Korean Reds had killed about 3,000 American prisoners of war up to Oct. 31, 1950, about the time Red China entered the fighting. From then on most of the atrocity killings have been the work of Chinese Reds, he said.

Laid to Chinese

Since the Chinese entered the war they have killed 2,643 U.N. soldiers, exclusive of South Koreans, Hanley reported. He said North Korean troops in that time had committed only 147 atrocity slayings.

Hanley broke down the killings attributed to Chinese since Nov. 1 as follows:

Americans, 2,513; Turks, 40; British, 10; Belgians, five; other U.N. troops, 75.

"This is in sharp conflict with the Chinese claim of compliance with the Geneva convention in the treatment of war prisoners," Hanley said. The Chinese Communist government did not sign the Geneva convention.

Promoted Controversial Cancer Drug

Famed Doctor Charged With Unethical Conduct

CHICAGO, Nov. 14—(AP)—Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, internationally known physiologist, was found guilty of unethical conduct by the Chicago Medical Society last night in connection with his part in the introduction of krebiozen, controversial cancer drug.

Dr. Ivy, 58-year-old vice president in charge of the professional schools of the University of Illinois since 1946, was ordered suspended from the society for three months.

His suspension, a society statement said, was "for methods he employed in promoting a substance known as 'krebiozen,' in the treatment of cancer."

No Comment

Ivy appeared before the society's council of about 100 members at last night's meeting but his statements were not made public. He was not immediately available for comment.

The society said the council and its several committees had met with Dr. Ivy "numerous times in an effort to keep his enthusiastic activities, pertaining to the substance, (krebiozen) on a plane where false hope would not be aroused in countless cancer victims.

"The cancer committee and the council felt that it was regrettable that Dr. Ivy would associate himself with a drug whose physical and chemical properties were kept a secret. This was a specific violation of medical ethics."

The council said it "exerted unusual care and diligence before making its decision because of Dr. Ivy's outstanding record as a medical researcher and his achievements as a scientist."

Dr. Ivy announced the introduction of krebiozen last March at a meeting of 100 physicians and scientists. At that time he said the drug had been tested on 22 patients in whom it had accomplished some improvement in health. He emphasized, however, that krebiozen was not a cancer cure but was a "new kind of medicine" that deserved further investigation.

Question Effect

The American Medical Association on Oct. 25 said a study of the case histories of 100 cancer patients treated with krebiozen failed to show the drug had "beneficial effects."

Dr. Ivy, as an officer of the Krebiozen Research Foundation, said, however, that krebiozen still was under "extensive clinical investigation."

Dr. Stevan Durovic, former Yugoslav physican now living in Chicago, discoverer of krebiozen, claims to extract it from the blood serum of horses after he has stimulated one of their fundamental cell systems by a secret process.

"DEAD" WOMAN REVIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14 —(AP)— Flabbergasted physicians today predicted the complete recovery of Theresa Butler, 60-year-old widow pronounced dead and sent to the morgue six days ago. Mrs. Butler abruptly came out of a five-day coma yesterday, talked coherently and recognized her daughter and Dr. J. C. Geiger, city-county public health director.

Reports Reds Tip Hand At Truce Table

Want All Fighting To End Now, U.N. Spokesman Says

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 14—(AP)—The Communists challenged the Allies today to break off truce talks if the United Nations want to keep on fighting in Korea, a U.N. spokesman reported.

An Allied communique said it became "unmistakably clear" the Reds want to end the fighting now — in the air, on the sea and on the ground.

This was the first hint the Reds want the Allies to call off their planes and warships as soon as a buffer zone is created.

The Allied spokesman said Communist subcommitteemen declared there would be no armistice unless item two (cease-fire line) is settled before other items on the five-point agenda.

Red General Speaks

Chinese Maj. Gen Hsieh Fang was quoted as telling U.N. truce negotiators:

"What does item two require? It requires that we make a clear indication now, reach a clear agreement as to where to stop fighting.

"If this is not solved, then item three, four and five cannot be proceeded with; no armistice will be achieved."

Bloodmobile Here Friday

Many Register But Walkins Welcome

The Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross, for the first time, has its quota of blood donors before the arrival of the Bloodmobile, Robert Kraner, chairman of the blood program, reported today.

The quota of blood donors is 160 for November. More than that number have already volunteered to give blood Friday when the Bloodmobile comes to Marion.

Additional walk-ins, however, will be welcomed as some of the registrants may not be able to give blood due to colds or for other reasons.

The unit will be located at the First Presbyterian Church from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

Recognizing the urgent need for large quantities of blood, the Columbia Broadcasting System and its affiliated stations will carry a nation-wide radio marathon beginning at 10 a.m. Thursday and ending at 1 a.m. Friday.

In addition to numerous appeals during the day, every network show will close with a 50-second appeal by Arthur Godfrey.

REVIEWS CASES

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14 —(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today reviewed the entire cases of the two slayers of Harold Mast, Medina County farmer, to see if they should be spared the electric chair. The men whose fate hangs in the balance are Max Amerman, 27, and Jerry Killinger, 18. Amerman is scheduled to die tomorrow and Killinger Friday.

Opposition To Allied Air Strikes Fades

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 14 —(AP)—Allied warplanes today swept North Korean skies without challenge and dealt new blows to the crippled Communist rail system.

Far East Air Forces said B-26 light bombers destroyed eight locomotives in pre-dawn raids. Ten others were reported destroyed in the 24 hours ended at midnight Tuesday.

An Air Force spokesman said he hesitated to claim a total of 18 since there might be some overlapping. But he said he felt certain at least some of the eight were in addition to the previous 10.

Allied fighter sweeps through MIG alley in northwest Korea before noon Wednesday failed to turn up any Communist Jets. It was the fourth straight day the Reds refused to tangle with U.N. planes.

U.N. ground forces Wednesday threw back two company-sized Red probing attacks on the western front and scattered a Communist platoon on the eastern front.

An Eighth Army Wednesday evening communique said there was no other significant action along the front.

FBI Nabs 2 More in Elida Bank Holdup

LIMA, O., Nov. 14—(AP)—The FBI arrested two more men here yesterday in the $3,200 holdup of the Farmers Bank at nearby Elida a month ago.

With a previous arrest made here Nov. 1, federal agents believed they now have all three men who pulled the daring daylight robbery.

At Cleveland Paul J. Shine, agent in charge of the FBI, said the men arrested at their homes here yesterday were Mitchell K. Rigel, 22, and James C. Breese, 27.

A third Lima man, William D. Metzger, 23, was arrested by the FBI here Nov. 1. Agents found in his possession at the time $1,400 in a money belt and a pistol. Shine said $530 was found in Breese's home. Both Metzger and Breese denied the money was from the Elida bank.

Is War Inevitable?

. . . or are there other ways to stop the Red menace? Could the Soviet system of infiltration and espionage be turned against the communist states successfully, and could an international army suppress the rise of communism?

These, and many other provocative thoughts are brought into the spotlight in an exclusive new series, "A Foreign Policy for Americans," by Robert A. Taft. It is in 12 daily instalments, a newspaper condensation of Senator Taft's new book.

Whatever your own thinking may be, here is news and vital information, for this feature is the gist and aim of the outstanding opposition to the present foreign policy. Start with the first instalment—

Win "Prince Of Peace" Speech Contests

Winners in two "Prince of Peace" speech contests held Sunday night in Caledonia were Beverly Harper and Beulah Cochran, both of near Edison.

Beverly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Harper, is in the ninth grade at Caledonia School. She presented the topic, "Road to Right," in the Methodist Memorial Church with the Rev. S. E. Kaetzel in charge of the program.

James Chapman, Anna Lou Mattison and Dave Shonk gave declamations on the same program. Dave Shonk was alternate.

A second contest was held that evening at the Church of Christ, in which Beulah, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Cochran, finished in first place. The Rev. Elmer J. Sparrow presented the contest.

Beulah, a senior at Caledonia School, spoke on "Bold New Program." Others giving topics in the same contest were Mary Cochran, Janis Reamsnyder and Joanne Hoffman. Joanne Hoffman was chosen alternate.

The two winners will compete in a county contest to be held within the next four weeks. Topics were written by college students throughout the country.

HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

When Circle 8 of First Presbyterian Church met Thursday night, Mrs. Paul Albert was hostess in her home at 521 Olney Ave., assisted by Mrs. Charles Ulrich. Kauer Fears Steel Curtailment Will Halt Road Building

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—State Highway Director T. J. Kauer said today federal curtailment of steel could become so drastic "that all highway construction might be stopped."

He urged federal production agencies to reconsider their classification of highway modernization and construction as non-essential projects.

Kauer said highways should be "an essential part of our nation's first line of defense."

He spoke at a forum on Ohio's Highway Problems" at the 58th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Kauer said the $101,000,000 expected to be available for highway construction in Ohio during the two-year period ending June 30, 1953, is "woefully inadequate."

Rotary Club Hears District Governor

Tom Bartlett Of North Baltimore Speaks at Luncheon

Tom Bartlett of North Baltimore, district governor of the 227th district of Rotary, was speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Rotary Club at Hotel Harding Tuesday.

It was the occasion of Mr. Bartlett's official visit to the club. As district governor, one of his duties is to visit all clubs in the district during his year's administration. He is head of an insurance agency in North Baltimore.

Speaking on the theme, "Extension of Rotary, Within Rotary," Mr Bartlett urged members to attend all meetings possible in order to get full benefit of their association with the club. He emphasized that Rotary is interested in service to the community and is not merely a social organization.

Following the close of the club meeting, Mr. Bartlett held a conference with officers and committee chairmen to hear reports of the Marion club's activities and plans for the year.

He was introduced to the club by Henry A. Mickley, Marion attorney who is a former district Rotary governor.

Guests of the club were David Glunn, of Maumee; C. W. Brooks, of Bucyrus; Jim Rainey, of Sheboygan, Wis; J. M. Smallshaw, of Cleveland; George Haase, of Toledo, and William H. Gracely, of Marion.

Files $58,000 Damage Suit

Results From Traffic Accident

Harold H Hanawalt of 467 Evans Rd was named defendant in a $58,000 damage suit filed today in Marion County Common Pleas Court by Gale D. Ireland of 792 Woodrow Ave.

The suit is the result of a traffic crash last June 17 on Route 42 north of Delaware. Mr Ireland alleges he was traveling south when he met a string of north-bound traffic. With no warning, his petition says, a car driven by Mr Hanawalt pulled out of the line and began passing the string In doing this, the Ireland car was struck by Hanawalt in a headon collision, the petition alleges, resulting in injury to Ireland.

The petition charges Hanawalt with negligence and lists eight specific charges of traffic violations.

Frank Wiedemann is attorney for the plaintiff.

List Hunting Safety Rules

Pheasant, Rabbit Season To Open

With the opening of pheasant and rabbit hunting season tomorrow, local hunters today were brushing up on hunting laws and safety rules.

Sportsmen listed the following rules for hunters:

- Never point a loaded gun at an object unless you intend to fire
- Always keep gun's safety locked when walking.
- Never carry a gun at the cocked position.
- Use caution in crossing fences and gullies.
- Always make sure of the target before shooting.
- Never shoot in the direction of hunting companions.
- Don't hog the game. Stop hunting when the bag limit is obtained.
- Observe all signs on posted property.
- Never carry a loaded gun in an automobile.

Council

dents of his ward have said they would have their telephones removed should the company be granted a raise. Others have protested the service received, he said.

Other Action

In an abbreviated meeting, Council passed four other pieces of legislation. Included were three pay claims against the city. The meeting ended slightly before 9:30.

An ordinance authorizing the operator at the city's garbage and rubbish disposal service to live in a residence at the land-fill operation area was approved by a 9-0 vote.

Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest explained he brought the ordinance before council for approval before allowing the operator to occupy the building. He said the move was being made in an effort to prevent independent haulers from entering the area on Sunday and holidays and scattering refuse about the operation area, which has happened several times in the past.

The city buries its refuge on a farm west of Marion on Route 95, the former city hog farm Since the land-fill operation started the farm house has been vacant. The house is in "liveable" condition and will be occupied by Ted Eckert, a bull dozer operator.

Claim Settled

A claim of $134 60 against the city by Phillip Hall of 650 Uncapher Ave. was ordered settled. The claim is the result of a collision of a city garbage truck and an auto owned by Mr. Hall. Payment of the claim was approved by an 8-0 vote. Councilman Charles R Pennisten abstained from voting.

A claim of $51 50 against the city by Mrs. Maude C. Longacre of 468 Silver St. was ordered settled. The claim was filed to collect damages caused to the sanitary sewer at the residence by the ground wire from a city cable lightning arrester. The arrester was installed by the fire department in the spring of 1942. During the installation, the ground wire was driven through the sewer line. Mrs. Longacre since then has purchased the property and has reported trouble with the sewer. Approval of the payment was granted unanimously.

The final piece of legislation also was passed by a unanimous vote and approved the settling of a $13.03 claim by Wayne Roszman of 1043 Davids St. Mr. Roszman asked payment for damages to his car incurred on Oct. 23 at the intersection of Davids St. and Bellefontaine Ave. He was crossing a manhole when the cover broke. A piece of the broken cover flew up and damaged his left front fender.

Zoning Ordinance

An ordinance calling for the rezoning of part of N. Main St. was referred to the City Planning Commission by Council. Action is expected to be taken at the next meeting. The ordinance would change the west side of Main St. from Klerx St. to the city limits and the east side from Fairground St. to the city limits from a residential to a commercial area. Further study was required to assure that the Lincoln Park area would not be commercialized.

A letter was read from James A. Frew, principal of Thomas A. Edison Junior High School. Mr Frew requested additional street lights in the immediate area of the school. After hearing the letter, Council members pointed out that one of two lights requested already had been installed and Councilman Conkle, chairman of the Utilities Committee, reported his committee did not feel that another light was needed.

Councilman Jenkins placed before Council a plea from the residents of Oak St. for bus service from the Marion Transit Co. Mr. Jenkins said these residents had told him they would assure the company of at least 15 passengers a day. First Ward Councilman Harold Smith pointed out a loop already had been attempted but had to be abandoned when it failed to pay expenses The plea was referred to the Utilities Committee for study.

Councilman-at-large George Stafford, Council president protem, presided at last night's meeting in the absence of President William G. Slack. Mr. Slack has been ill for several days and was unable to attend.

needed in Pennsylvania. His plans now call for submitting his name to Wisconsin and Ohio voters only.

Taft declared his opposition to a bi-partisan foreign policy by describing it as "a mee-too policy."

"A me-too policy is trying to get the people in be-tween," he said "The wavering foreign policy of the administration has brought about the greatest crisis that this country has ever faced It's an uncertain and stupid policy."

Three Fire Runs Made

Gas, Electricity, Oil Cause Trouble

Firemen from the Central station were called to 346 W. Center St. this morning at 9:25 when an electric motor on a washing machine got stuck and filled the basement with smoke at the home of David W Evans. Minor damage to the motor was reported

Yesterday afternoon gas escaping from a defective valve ignited and set fire to walls and ceiling of Veterans Housing Unit 41 on W. Fairground St, occupied by Eugene Jenner. Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Owen Sifritt at $50 to the building and $150 to the contents.

Firemen from the Central and E. Mark St stations answered the call at 1:36 p m yesterday

An oil stove belonging to Mrs Florence Bradford of 519 Decatur St. got out of control and filled the house with smoke last night at 9 20 No damage resulted The call was answered by firemen from the Central and E Mark St stations

Outside Agents Assigned To Revenue Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP) Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap announced today he has assigned outside agents to investigate reported "irregularities" in the revenue bureau's alcohol tax unit.

Dunlap said a special inquiry will be conducted by Secret Service and narcotics agents under the direction of M L. Harney, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Narcotics.

The commissioner said the survey is designed to correct "any situations which may give rise to irregularities" and to recommend "the reassignment of supervisory personnel where such action will promote the efficiency of the service."

In response to questions at a news conference, Dunlap also said one aim would be to eliminate "hoodlums and racketeers" from the liquor industry.

The tax collector agency has been involved in a series of scandals, chiefly touching revenue agents and regional collectors' offices.

Will Carry On, McCarthy Says

CHICAGO, Nov 14—(AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said last night he doesn't "give a tinker's damn" if his claims that there are Communists in government hurt the Republican party in next year's elections.

Sen. McCarthy made the statement at a news conference at the annual convention of the National Association of Radio News Directors. He was questioned in a news conference by convention delegates.

Asked for his reaction to the claims of some Republicans that he is a liability to the party, McCarthy answered

"I don't give a tinker's damn what anybody thinks. I'm going to continue this fight."

The Wisconsin senator passed lightly over a question about efforts earlier this year of Sen. William Benton (D—Conn) to have him expelled from the Senate. McCarthy asserted:

"As long as I am in the U.S. Senate, Wee Willie, the mental midget, (Sen. Benton) will be nipping at my heels."

Man Held For Attacking Housewife

Pleads Not Guilty At Hearing; Bound Over to Grand Jury

Samuel Woodrow Tannyhill, 23, of 149½ N Main St, charged with the rape of a 17-year-old Marion housewife, was bound over to the Marion county grand jury today after entering a not guilty plea at his arraignment in Municipal Court

He was also charged with forgery and carrying concealed weapons.

He appeared in municipal court today and pleaded not guilty to the rape and forgery charge and asked for a preliminary hearing on the weapons charge.

Held in Jail

He is being held in County jail in lieu of $2,200 bond.

The alleged attack occurred in Tannyhill's car along a deserted section of road south of Marion Friday night, police said today.

The victim said a man, whom she recognized as a friend of her husband's, came to their house Friday evening looking for her husband. He was at work as a laborer in a local plant and would not be home until 11 p. m, she told the man. He asked if she would not go with him in his car and pick up her husband at work

The 17-year-old woman got into the car, but instead of going to find her husband, the man drove south of town, parked the car, pulled a gun, and after beating the woman over the head, raped her, she told police.

At 1 a m Saturday the woman was driven back to Marion and let out of the car. She called police who took her to the hospital for treatment of bruises on her head and face. She was treated and released.

Arrested Monday

From the description the woman gave police and her husband, Tannyhill was arrested Monday. He was already wanted on a bad check warrant dating to March 1948 in Marion and was held on that charge until the rape charge could be investigated.

The woman identified Tannyhill as the man who had assaulted her.

Tannyhill was released in August from the Missouri State penitentiary where he served a term of 22 months for forgery. He is at present on parole from Missouri and has a further term of five years to serve for parole violation. He violated his parole by leaving Missouri, police reported.

Tannyhill was represented by J. W. Jacoby at the hearing today.

Wreck Toll Still Unknown

EVANSTON, Wyo., Nov. 14—(AP)—Sixteen bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of two swift passenger trains, but the final death toll and the cause of the accident both were unknown today.

The trains collided Monday.

Workmen at the site of the wreck, three miles west of here, said they believed they could see one body, maybe more, in the shredded coaches. Portions of other bodies portruded from the mess, but it was thought these might be parts of bodies already removed. Two bodies were recovered yesterday.

Aside from the known dead and two missing, seven persons remained seriously injured, two of them in critical condition Hundreds were reported treated for minor hurts, and continued on their way.

Union Pacific president A. E. Stoddard said that officials "can only presume" that a snowstorm was the cause of the wreck.

FINDLAY DOCTOR VICTIM

EVANSTON, Wyo, Nov. 14 —(UP)—Dr. John Marshall, Findlay, O., today was identified as one of the persons killed in the crash of two Union Pacific passenger trains here Monday. Dr Marshall previously had been listed as missing.

Cleveland Woman Shot In William Tell Stunt

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—(AP)—Police today said a 22-year-old woman was killed when she pulled up a strand of hair for a companion to shoot at.

Victim of the William Tell stunt at an east side filling station was Louise Lucas Police were holding Devota Person, 30, an attendant at the station, who shot the woman in the right chest.

Patrolman Fred Bartlett gave this account of the shooting last night:

Person was telling the woman what a good shot he was. She pulled up a strand of hair and told him to hit it. Person backed away five feet and fired.

Bartlett said the two had been drinking.

MOTHER GRIEVES FOR MISSING SONS. Mrs Kenneth Klein, mother of three boys who have been missing since late Saturday at Minneapolis, Minn, rests while a search goes on Caps of two of the boys were fished from the cold Mississippi river but otherwise no trace of them has been found. Mrs. Klein is holding pictures of the three missing boys and another son. They are (left to right) Daniel, 4; David, 5; and Kenneth Jr., 8, the missing three and Gordon, 9. The pictures were taken several years ago.

The programs are arranged by Mrs. Lewis Wills of Marion, district radio chairman.

Warren May Toss in Hat

Expected to Announce Presidential Hopes

SACRAMENTO, Calif, Nov. 14—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren, who's never been bashful about seeking political office, is expected to say "yes" today to some California GOP leaders' appeals that he seek the presidency.

Sen. Richard Nixon (R-Calif) predicted in Boston last night that the three-term governor will run—and that he'll be the strongest dark horse in the Republican convention hall

Warren, No 2 man on the 1948 Dewey-Warren ticket, scheduled three special news conferences to pass on his decision to the press, radio and television and newsreels.

He promised an unequivocal statement. It will reply to petitioning by most California party leaders to declare his candidacy for the Republican nomination and to authorize a Warren for president slate of convention delegates on the June primary ballot.

Flemming Opens Fund Drive By 19 Ohio Colleges

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—(AP)—Presidents and top officials of 19 Ohio colleges went calling on the city's top industrialists today in a campaign to raise at least $1,000,000 for the schools.

The drive was launched yesterday at a luncheon attended by 150 leaders in Cleveland industry Later, the campaign will be carried to other areas of the state.

The colleges, all liberal arts and non-tax supported, are members of the recently formed Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges.

President Arthur S Flemming of Ohio Wesleyan University told the industrialists that the schools are "not on their last legs financially."

But he added that the average salary of $3,700 paid to their faculty members indicates a need for greater funds.

"The money we are asking is not to be used for buildings," he said. "it is for current operating budgets. All we are saying is that we want to put ourselves in a position where we can move forward and serve our students."

Girl, 14, Pulls $143 Holdup in Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, O, Nov. 14 —(AP)—A girl's voice said calmly, "this is a stickup." It was near closing time in the drug store.

Manager Norman Kutler whirled around. His jaw dropped.

There before him, her hand jammed in a coat pocket to suggest a gun, stood a pretty, 14-year-old high school girl.

She ordered Kutler and a clerk to the rear of the store. Then, Kutler said, he gave her $143 from the cash register.

She walked out. Forty-five minutes later, police arrested her in a hotel opposite the drug store where she's registered under another name. The money was in her room.

The girl said she came to Circleville looking for a job.

Opera Opens Second Season Under Bing

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—Rudolf Bing's streamlined Metropolitan Opera began its second season last night with a new production and new singers — but pretty much the same opening night audience.

The few new faces in the opera-going crowd included British actor Rex Harrison and his beautiful wife, Lilli Palmer; and commentator and Mrs. Lowell Thomas.

But lobby crowds gave cheers for many familiar faces—singers Gladys Swarthout, Marguerite Piazza, Jeannette McDonald and Eleanor Steber; actresses Faye Emerson and Ilona Massey, and manager Bing himself, accompanied by British ambassador Sir Oliver Franks and Lady Franks.

When the lavishly dressed and jewelled audience had settled itself in the Diamond Horseshoe, they saw a new production of Verdi's "Aida."

Direction by Margaret Webster, costumes and sets by Rolf Gerard and choreography by Zachary Solov gave the 80-year-old opera a bright modern look.

spokesman for the U.N. command, said the Reds conceded they contemplate no changes once a cease-fire line is established. Their proposal calls for alterations at the time an arcistice is reached if there have been substantial changes in the battle line. Nuckols said the Communist negotiators conceded this was meaningless.

U.N. Fears Justified

This is precisely what the U.N. command said it feared. It has said repeatedly that fixing a buffer zone now, as the Communists propose, would mean an immediate cease-fire and an end to all shooting, relieving the Reds of pressure to agree on other armistice terms.

The Allies say acceptance of the Red demand would mean an end to hopes for a truce settlement.

Nuckols said the new Communist position was laid down in a marathon five hour and five minute truce session Wednesday at Panmunjom. Another meeting was scheduled for 11 a. m. Thursday (9 p.m Wednesday, EST).

U.S. Supreme Court Rules In Six Cases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP)—The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that drugs illegally seized from a hotel room could not be used as evidence against their owner, even though he admitted the narcotics belonged to him.

Justice Clark delivered the 6-3 decision involving the seizure of 19 bottles of cocaine and one bottle of codeine by police. They searched the room of two Negro women in the Dunbar Hotel here without a warrant. Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Reed dissented. Justice Minton took no part.

The Court also:

Decided a rape-murder "confession" made by a prisoner held on another charge may be used against him, provided it was made voluntarily. But if the prisoner claims the confession was coerced, he must be given a chance to prove his contention, the tribunal added in a ruling on a case appealed from Anchorage, Alaska, by Harvey L. Carignan.

Gave New Mexico 30 days to answer a Texas complaint charging violation of a Rio Grande irrigation compact signed by the two states and Colorado in 1938. Texas claims New Mexico is storing too much water in certain reservoirs.

Declined for lack of a final judgment in state courts to rule now on whether Florida must admit five Negroes to the state university on an unsegregated basis. The university has agreed to admit the Negroes until courses they want are available at a Negro school — but it said they must sit apart from white students

Agreed to rule on the anti-trust conviction of the Richfield Oil Corp. of Los Angeles growing out of contracts with service station operators in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Idaho and Arizona.

Plane

no traces of the missing transport.

The search was concentrated on a 40-mile-wide strip between Dijon and Bordeaux, with some planes scanning the sea off the southwest French coast in case the missing aircraft overshot Bordeaux.

Two ground rescue crews, one from Wiesbaden and the other from Paris, were enroute by car to the southern France region where the plane may have crashed.

Search Mont Dore Area

At Clermont-Ferrand, near the Mont Dore ski area where residents said they heard what might have been a plane crash yesterday, French search parties said today they had found no trace of the missing plane during an all-night search. It is in this region that towering Mont Dore rears 6,180 feet into the clouds.

The searchers said snow fell throughout the night and four inches of white covered the area this morning. They said the snow and cold made the going difficult.

First reports had identified the missing craft as an "evacuation plane" used to transport military hospital cases, but the Air Force said later there were no hospital cases aboard.

Three Purchase Proposals Received

Plans for Disposal of Old Central Building Studied by School Board

Members of the Marion City Board of Education still are ironing out plans for the disposal of the Central Junior High School property on West Center St.

No definite action toward the disposal has been taken but board members hope to complete the action in the near future, a spokesman said today.

Thus far, thee inquiries have been received from business concerns on the possible purchase of the land. However, no action has been taken toward any sales. The spokesman said the board had held several discussions on the method to be used in selling the property. At first the board was undecided whether to sell the property as one plot or to subdivide it. Most board members apparently are in favor of selling it as a whole now.

Builders Interested

The three inquiries received have all been from potential builders. Business establishments would be constructed on the property. The Chamber of Commerce has been urging use of the property as a new business location.

Under the Chamber plan, business building would be constructed on the front half of the property facing West Center St. while the rear half would be used as a public parking lot.

Some persons have suggested the property be purchased by the City of Marion for use as a new City Hall. Members of City Council, however, have veered away from this plan due to prohibitive costs.

Most Recent Offer

The latest offer was received last week at a meeting of the board but was turned down because the price offered was considered insufficient by board members.

Sale of the property has been made posible by completion of the new State Street Junior High School Building on North State St. The old Central Building was vacated when the new building was occupied last fall.

Group Hears Reports On Armistice Day Parade

The Marion Armistice Day parade committee hoard final reports on this year's parade and launched plans for next year's Armistice Day observance at a meeting held Monday night in the Veterans Memorial Home.

To start the organization which will plan the observance next year, Charles Morbitt was elected temporary chairman, and Miss Emily Wolfel was elected to serve as the temporary secretary. A meeting at which the program for next year will be outlined was scheduled Jan. 28 at the Veterans Memorial Home. Representatives from all veterans organiaztions in the county will be in attendance at this meeting.

BUCYRUS HOSPITAL BIRTHS

BUCYRUS — City Hospital births: a son, born Sunday, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lanker of Bucyrus; a daughter, born Monday, to Mr. and Mrs. James Schiefer of Bucyrus; a son, born Saturday, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Russ of North Robinson.

Church School Work Discussed by Group

A discussion of Church School work was heard at a meeting of the Women's Association in First Presbyterian Church Recreation Room Wednesday. Circle Two served 1 o'clock dessert luncheon which was followed by the program. Mrs. J. E. Frew presided for business. Election of Mrs. Richard Albert for treasurer and of Mrs. H. K. Mouser for second vice president was held. Mrs. Howard Ropke introduced Mrs. R. I. Butterworth who was in charge of worship in which all members took part. The theme was "The Love and Care of Children."

Mrs. G. C. McCreight spoke on "The Church School in 1951." She referred to the training school and conference for leaders and teachers at Wooster College held during the summer, and described work done in the Junior Department of the Presbyterian Church School. The method of teaching makes the subject matter vital and interesting, she said. Chief aim of the teaching is to bring together the church and home. Workbooks are used on Sunday mornings and at home on weekdays. The child learns and develops by doing, in a program of creative activity.

WESLEY WSCS MEETS

Latin America was the subject of lesson study at a WSCS meeting in Wesley Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, in charge of Mrs. D. J. Finley. A display included articles from Mexico, Colombia and Brazil. The meaning of the WWSCS emblem was given by Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Paul Augenstein, Mrs. R. R. Thornberry and Mrs. William Reeves. Announcement of the district Booth Festival No. 23 was made, and the local church bazaar and cafeteria supper Nov. 30. A report of 105 calls was made. Circle Three served.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE. In San Francisco, Mrs. Theresa Butler, 60, who was revived after she had been pronounced dead for ten hours, posed for this portrait about two weeks ago. Mrs. Butler, a sleeping pill victim, was being carried into the morgue when she began gasping for breath. She was immediately transferred to an emergency hospital. Hope for her recovery is very scant.

Sycamore Woman Wed to Bucyrian

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Miss Annabelle Viola Bordner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bordner of near Sycamore, and Marold Stinehelfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Althauser of Bucyrus, exchanged nuptial vows Sunday afternoon in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church. The double ring service was read by Rev. W. Myron Glick of Rochester, Wis., an uncle of the bride.

Miss Joan Bordner was maid of honor for her sister and Lester Althauser Jr. was best man. A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Stinehelfer is a graduate of Lykens High School and has been employed at the Oceola shoe store. Mr. Stinehelfer is a graduate of Bucyrus High School and is employed at Walther's Hardware Store.

Veterans and Draftees Guide

—By—
Major Thomas M. Nial

SOME World War II vets are losing their G.I. insurance coverage with no chance of getting it back. Why? They're letting their NSLI "expire" while it is "lapsed."

What does it mean when a policy "lapses" and "expires"?

An NSLI term policy, the kind World War II servicers took out in service, runs only for a certain term of years. At the end of that term the policy "expires." But just before it expires, the policyholder may renew or convert it.

When he renews he actually takes out another term policy to run for another specified period of years. Term policies taken out before Jan. 1, 1946, run for eight-year terms. Those taken out on or after that date run for five-year terms.

When the policyholder converts he takes out one of six permanent types of insurances, like ordinary life, 20-pay life, endowment at age 60, etc. On permanent policies the premiums remain the same until he dies or until the policy is paid up or until an endowment policy matures and begins to pay him back.

* * *

AT ANY TIME. If the policyholder just quit paying premiums, his policy will "lapse." He'll have a "grace period" of 31 days following the last premium due date. During the grace period his insurance will still be in force. At the end of it, his coverage stops.

Now, if a term policy lapses and the term has NOT yet expired, the vet or serviceman may buy new NSLI.

But—and this is the important fact to remember—if he lets it lapse and then the term expires, he's through. He can neither reinstate his old NSLI policy nor buy now NSLI.

Joe Vet took out a term policy on Nov. 1, 1943. That was before Jan. 1, 1946, so the term of his policy was eight years, due to expire on Nov. 1 this year.

When he got out of service Joe paid premiums regularly for several years. But last summer he was on vacation and forgot to send the VA a check for the premium due on Aug. 1.

In September, after the grace period had ended, the VA notified Joe twice that his NSLI had lapsed and he had better reinstate. But Joe, for some reason, didn't get around to it until this week. He writes the VA inquiring about it and is told, of course, that his NSLI expired on Nov. 1 so he can't reinstate.

* * *

IF THIS HAD happened to Joe Vet a year ago the VA would merely have let him buy a NEW NSLI policy, like all wartime vets could do at that time. But the Servicemen's Indemnity Act signed into law on April 25, 1951, did away with the purchase of new NSLI policies, though policyholders with lapsed policies may still reinstate them if their terms have not expired.

How do you reinstate? Easy. Just apply for reinstatement on a special VA form and send along payment for TWO monthly premiums (to cover the grace period you didn't pay for plus the first month of insurance coming up).

If more than three months have passed since the NSLI lapsed, you must pass a VA medical exam.

If less than three months have passed, you need only state on the application that your health is as good now as it was when the NSLI lapsed.

In either case, see or write the nearest Veterans Administration (VA) contact office for the proper forms. Get the address from a phone directory or your postoffice.

* * *

(You may write Major Nial care of this newspaper about your own service-connected problem, but please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope).

News of Our Neighbors

LaRue

Latin American night was observed by the General Society of the Methodist W.S.C.S Wednesday with a chili supper served in the church dining room at 7. The tables were decorated in table mats, flowers and bird of Latin American design. Mrs. Leland Wiley spoke grace before the supper and a short business meeting preceded the program. Mrs John McElhaney conducted the worship service.

The president, Mrs. William Trihaft, announced the opening and consecration services of the new addition to the church Nov. 25. The Gleaners Circle will be in charge of organizing the work of the day.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Emory Clement for departed members. Mrs. Fannie Allen and Mrs. Clara Davis followed by a poem, "They Softly Walk," read by Mrs. Roy Grimes. A chapter of the study book, "We Americans, North and South," was reviewed by Mrs. John Olsen. A skit entitled, "Sowing the Seed in Latin America," was presented by several members with Mrs. Trihaft as vocal soloist.

Mrs. J. T. Jones read an article on the poetry of Latin America with poems of that section following. A letter from Miss Louise Campbell who is a missionary in Jabalpur, India, was read by Mrs Grimes and Mrs. Clements told the society that the Little Helpers Circle had received a letter from a mission in North Africa where seeds were sent last spring.

Mrs Albert Amstutz announced that Nov. 18 would mark the annual thank offering Sunday and Mrs. Ernest Weiss, wife of a returned Chinese missionary-doctor, would be the guest speaker for the morning church service. Latin American music was played during the dinner hour by Martha Hoagland. Prayer by Mrs. Lulu Folk closed the meeting.

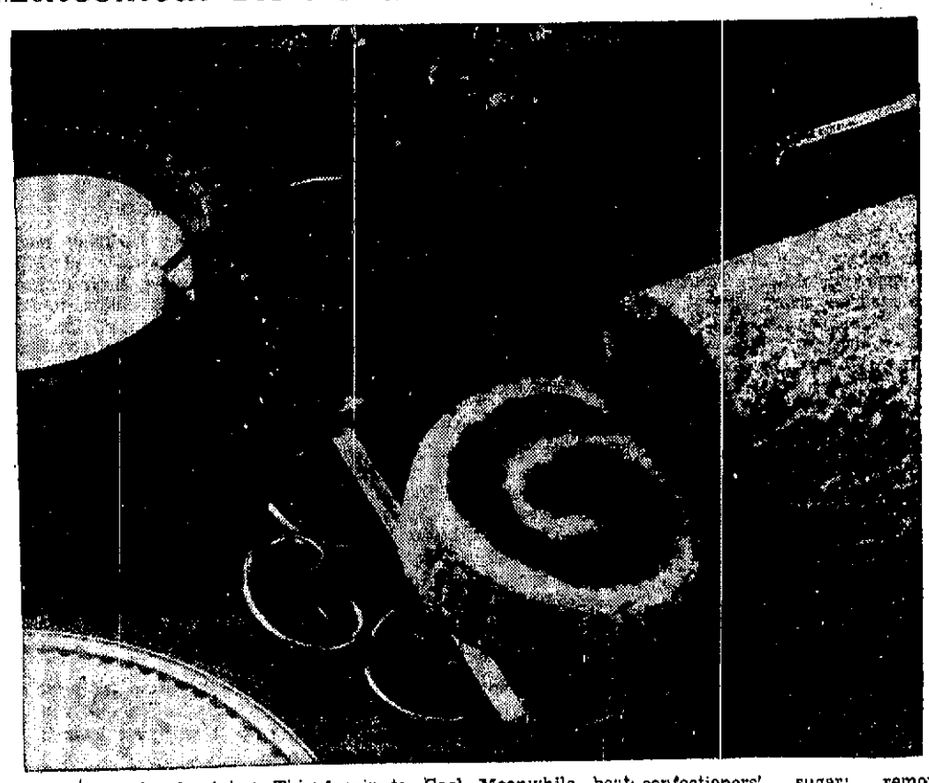
Mincemeat Roll Made With Little Effort



LOOKS can be deceiving. This mincemeat roll looks like the kind of dessert only an experienced chef should attempt, but actually it can be made with less effort than you think.

While the cake bakes, the filling and sauce can be made in double quick time. There's no deception about its goodness and richness, either, and you'll want to keep the recipe handy for future command performances.

MINCEMEAT ROLL WITH LEMON SAUCE

1 pkg. mincemeat (about 9 ounces)
½ cup water.
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
5 T water
1 t. lemon juice
1 cup sifted flour
1 t baking powder
¼ t salt

Break mincemeat into small pieces and put in small saucepan. Add water. Place over low heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Increase heat and boil briskly for 1 minute. Cool. Meanwhile, beat eggs until thick. Gradually beat in sugar. Stir in water and lemon juice. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually stir into egg mixture; beat until smooth. Pour batter into greased 15½-by-10½-inch pan lined with waxed paper and grease again. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) until golden brown on top and center springs back when touched lightly with finger, about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven. Loosen edges of cake from pan; turn out on towel dusted with confectioners' sugar; remove waxed paper. Roll cake and towel together, jellyroll fashion, place on rack and cool. When cake is cool, gently unroll cake, and remove towel. Fill with cooled mincemeat and re-roll. Top with lemon sauce.

Lemon Sauce: Combine 2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk, ¼ cup lemon juice, and ½ teaspoon vanilla or rum extract. Stir until well blended and mixture is thickened. Chill in refrigerator until ready to use. Serve with mincemeat roll.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

For the space of a full second, my husband and Harry Underwood stared at my father. Then they broke into astonished speech.

"Now I've heard 'everything's great-grandchildren,'" Dicky said.

"Also his grandparents," Harry supplemented. "I'll eat my last year's hat! I didn't think the gal had it in her."

"Suppose you sit down," my husband said, drawing chairs forward, but my father put up a protesting hand.

"I haven't time," he said. "I must go at once. "I just wanted to make you acquainted with the latest development. And, I am sure you will be able to make Bill see reason. You are very convincing."

"I'll convince him with the business end of a mashie, if he shows any sign of balking," Dicky said. "But I really don't anticipate any real trouble with him. His strong urge to protect the little woman may bother him a bit at first, but he has basic common sense."

"Yes, he has," my father agreed. "How soon can you see Bill?"

"As soon as the first train out of New Haven can get me to the college," my husband said. "He's going to grab the first chance he can get to go up to see her, for he knows her circumstances, and how troubled she must be over the problem your offer gave her, although he doesn't know that she planned to leave college. That will be one of the arguments I shall give him."

"I'm sure that will clinch your case," my father said. "I'll get in touch with the authorities up there as soon as I get back home, and will see that he can get leave to go to Northampton whenever he wishes. Tell him that, will you Richard? Have him telephone here first, and find out what train she's taking up there. He may be able to make connections so as to make at least part of the journey with her."

"I'll do that," Dicky said, and then my father turned to Harry.

"If you'll just show me out, by yourself," he said, "I won't have to say farewell again to the others; I really am pressed for time."

But he showed no haste when he said goodbye to me after he had shaken hands with Dicky. His embrace, his kiss, were tender and lingering as usual, and he gave me a low admonition about our impending shopping trip.

"Bess Conway knows all the ropes," he said. "Trust her judgment about shops, and let her advise Mildred about her outfit. She knows what the smart younger generation wears. But do not ask her advice about your own outfit. Your taste is impeccable, my dear."

His words and his intonation were so flattering that I found myself blushing as if I were a teen-ager.

"Thank you for the posy," I told him, "but I want to thank you even more about your munificent plan for Mildred. If you could have heard her say that it was like being translated from hell to heaven, you would realize what this means to her."

"I am very glad to be able to do it," he said. "And now, my darling, until I see you again--"

He kissed me once more, and went out of the room with Harry. When the door closed behind him, Dicky already was looking at a New Haven time table.

"I can get a train in an hour," he said. "That will be about the time you'll be starting on your shopping trip, won't it?"

Confused Dog Owners Get Facts About Feeding Their Dogs

CHICAGO, November 7—In a frank discussion of the many claims and counterclaims directed at dog owners, the makers of Rival Dog Food present vital facts regarding what to feed a dog, and how much to pay for a dog food.

Dog owners find some dog foods priced lower than Rival, some considerably higher. Those who pay less may be gambling with their dog's health, and forced to supplement his diet, resulting in a higher cost per feeding, with a waste of time and effort. Those who pay more must decide whether they are really giving their dogs more in those food elements which insure his health. The fact is that Rival's balanced formula supplies every element needed by dogs for perfect health.

All-Meat—Or Balanced Blend?

Rival Dog Food contains plenty of meat, enhanced in feeding effectiveness by choice grains, scientifically blended with the meat. This makes it unnecessary for dog owners to buy fresh or frozen meat, then mix it with cereals or other foods. Rival is rich in body-building, energizing food elements, natural vitamins and minerals. No dog owner need add a single thing to a dog's diet if he feeds him Rival Dog Food.

Rival is the Answer

Rival builds healthy dogs at low cost. The makers of Rival urge that before a dog owner pays more—or less—than Rival's sensible price, or considers any other dog food, canned or otherwise, he should first question whether he can do better than follow the example of the millions who use Rival Dog Food, and know its value.

Report Gains Up To 35 Per Cent

Merchants Report Spurt In November Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—With two big sales days tucked under their belts, merchants hereabouts are feeling more comfortable today.

Department stores here were jammed with shoppers on the Armistice Day holiday. The week before, and election day holiday brought out the buying public with money to spend. On both occasions sales ran well above a year ago. Store estimates of gains range from 20 to 35 percent.

Chain stores, now reporting on their October business across the nation, show impressive sales increases over a year ago, and in most cases decided gains over business this September.

Food stores report both dollar volume and unit volume gains this year. They are expecting the biggest holiday trade in history, according to the American Institute of Food Distribution.

Apparel store sales, aided by the arrival of brisk weather, are running from eight to 25 percent above a year ago.

And a furniture store chain, which had been running behind last year for nine months, reports October sales jumped 28 per cent above a year ago.

Bargain Conscious

Customers, however, are very bargain - conscious, most merchants admit. The big Armistice Day and Election Day business is generally accredited to large-scale advertising of promotions and sales—and, in some instances, to "preseason clearances," the ads stressing that prices are being cut at the start rather than the end of the season.

Some government statistics may show where these customers are coming from. There were 61.8 million people at work in October, more than in any previous October, the Bureau of the Census reports.

Industrial output in October climbed back almost to the June level, after its summer slump, the Federal Reserve Board says in a preliminary estimate. It places production at 220 percent of the 1935-39 average. In September the percentage was 219. The June percentage was 221, followed by a drop to 212 in July.

The board says its October survey shows that a further drop in textile mill production was more than offset by a gain in machinery production, while steel mills were operating at an all-time high rate.

Income High

Personal income of Americans stays high, even if off a little from its peak, the Department of Commerce reports. In September it totalled $253.3 billion at an annual rate. But in August it had been $253.7 billion. In the first nine months of this year, total personal income was running 13 percent ahead of last year. But the rate has been slowing down—from April through September, personal income was only two percent ahead of last year.

A number of cities, however, aren't sharing in the income gains. In communities where civilian production is slowing down, and defense orders haven't taken up the slack, employment is off and income down.

BURGLARS LIKE CHRISTMAS

The gifts you buy and the gifts you receive add to the potential "loot" a burglar can carry off when he pays your home a visit. He really appreciates the Christmas shopping that is done this time of year. What protection against theft losses do you have? The insurance you need costs much less than you might expect.

Ask us about it.

Bucyrus Meeting To Give Gift Ideas

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 14—A good place to shop for Christmas ideas will be at the "Merry Christmas Open House" Thursday from 1 to 4:30 p.m., at the Parish House of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Bucyrus.

The program is sponsored by the Crawford County Home Demonstration Council in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Exhibits for the day will include: candle making by Chatfield and Lykens; textile and spatter painting by Whetstone and Sulphur Springs; home made purses by Mt. Zion; table decorations by North Robinson and Galion; snowmen by Leesville; candy making by members from Delaware County. These exhibits can be seen from 1 to 2 and from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Holmes - Liberty community members will act as hostesses throughout the day. Bucyrus will chairman the general decorating committee.

The program which will be from 2 to 3 p.m. will include carol singing by the group. A Christmas Eve tableau; selections from the Crawford County Homemakers Chorus; a gift wrapping demonstration by Mrs. Clifford Irey from Marion will conclude the main program. The exhibits will be open until 4:30 p.m.

The committee in charge of general arrangements for the entire program is Mrs. Arlo Lutz of North Robinson, chairman; Mrs. William Fawley of Sulphur Springs; Mrs. Wilbur Beach of Chatfield; Mrs. Robert Holtshouse of Whetstone.

Buckeyes Add Psychology To Pass, Punt and Pray Formula

Through the SPORTSCOPE with A. L. McCLAIN

MYTHOLOGY—The lexicon of Fremont sports writers in describing Fremont Ross' unbeaten football squad has caused this desk to get out its Greek mythology book in studying the Little Giants.

Fremont invades Harding Stadium to engage the Presidents Friday night in a game that will decide the Buckeye League title.

THUNDER IN THE NORTH. Sports Editor Al Coxon has hung the tag, "Little Thunder," and "Big Thunder" on Fremont Back Jerome Surratt and John Lewis. Surratt is the "little" and Lewis the "big."

Lewis, weighing 198, is still the fastest player on the team, according to Friend Al, who goes on to say, "Lewis is the best ball carrier I have seen in three years and only the second best I have ever seen in high school play."

And good reason, too. The big boy has scored 18 TDs and had eight called back because of penalties. Surratt isn't very far behind and was most responsible for Fremont's victory over the Proxies last season.

MIDGARD SERPENT. Which brings us around to what we are going to call Coach Pete Howison and his Proxies should they upset the Fremont team.

To Jim Richard of the Toledo Blade and Fritz Howell, Associated Press sports editor, we are going to send the release: The Thors of Fremont were slain by the Midgard Serpents of Marion Harding.

Both Richard and Howell have picked up the "thunder" tag this season in describing Surratt and Lewis.

IT'S GREEK. By way of explanation, Thor was the Greek God of thunder. The books say "He was conceived as in the vigor of youth, with hair and board red (color of lightning) riding in a goat-drawn chariot (whose rolling caused the thunder), and armed with a magic hammer, that always returns to him after being cast (its thunderbolt) at Ragnarok he slays and then is slain by the Midgard Serpent."

End of lesson.

KICKING IT AROUND. Paul Eckert, former Harding trackman, is stationed with the Army Air Corp. in New York.

A bowler in St. Charles, Mo. started the last frame with a strike. Then another strike. As he took aim and let go with the last ball, a 40-pound light fixture fell from the ceiling and crashed on his head. The gash on the head required 10 stitches. In the excitement, no one remembered his score.

Seventeen feet of snow fell in Crater Lake National Park, Ore., during the wintor of 1950-51.

Diem, Stanbro End With Perfect Week

City Editor Bill Diem and Wire Editor Bill Stanbro put on a strong finish in The Star prep football prediction race by picking all the winners of 11 games last week. It was the first perfect week recorded.

John Short and A. L. McClain missed on only one. Short missed in picking Mansfield Madison over Bucyrus while McClain took Galion to upset unbeaten Ashland.

Final Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
McClain	84	23	.785
Stanbro	82	25	.766

Carter-Aragon Fight On Television at 10

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14—(AP)—That hardy, muscle-throated specimen of sports, the fight fan, moved closer to the usual bedlam today as champion Jimmy Carter of New York and challenger Art Aragon of Los Angeles prepared to enter the ring at the Olympic Auditorium tonight to battle for the world lightweight title.

The nation's television fans, excluding the Southern California blacked-out area, will see it over the CBS network, starting at 10 p.m. eastern standard time.

Carter, the 27-year-old Negro who blasted Ike Williams out of the title by a 14-round knockout in New York last May 25, is a slight betting favorite in this, his first defense of the crown.

Hope To Beat Illini On Spirit Saturday

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—(AP)—It used to be punt, pass and pray. Now it's punt, pass, pray and psychology.

Ohio State added the fourth ingredient for an upset in football this week—a desperate device designed to defeat favored Illinois next Saturday.

Outgunned by land and air, the Ohioans hope to march to victory on the wings of song. Through the Buckeye dressing room this week blare phonograph records broadcasting everything from "Fight the Team" to pep talks by the late Knute Rockne.

"We can beat Illinois on spirit," said Ernie Godfrey, assistant coach of the Ohio team and the man who scouted Illinois this season. "We're going to work on it all week. By Saturday, we'll have these boys so high they'll play better football than they ever thought they could play."

Prime Weapon in 1916

Many a veteran Ohio fan believes that psychology is a prime weapon against Illinos. It worked in 1916 they insist. It might work in 1951.

That eventful day 35 years ago, Illinois was on the verge of a Big Ten championship. It led Ohio State, 6-0, until late in the game. Ohio's All-American Chic Harley hauled his 154 pounds over the goal line for a touchdown. The game was halted while Harley donned a pair of dry kicking shoes.

Ohio's coach then was Dr. John Wilce, a wily man who believed earnestly in the psychology of concentration. So while Harley was putting on his shoes, Dr. Wilce went up and down the bench. He instructed all Ohio substitutes to concentrate on just one image—the picture of Harley kicking the winning point after touchdown.

Kick Good

Harley, who didn't himself put as much emphasis on psychology as he did on the right kind of kick, made the yogi-like group of subs on the sidelines look awful good with a perfect placement. That defeated the Illini and kept them from the championship.

Ernie Godfrey came up with the 1951 version of the evil-eye. He's doing it with his daily momentous musicales, plus locker room harmony on such choice items as "Good Night Irene."

Head Coach Woody Hayes, who is not quite so musical, has scrounged about for an orthodox solution in case music doesn't soothe the savage Illini. He has shifted 230-pound Jerry Krischer, a freshman, to offensive center and moved Walt Klevay, a scatback, to right halfback. Then, he added a new twist or so to the offensive and shivered as he said: We'll have to live right this week."

All this psychology left at least one downtown quarterback untouched. Toeing the curb at Broad and High in the center of this football-screwey state capital, this citizen observed:

"Yeah, but, man, what if those Illinois kids can sing, too."

Brown Admits Giant Clash Is Big Game

But It Won't Clinch Title, Says Cleveland Mentor

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—(AP)—Just about everybody—except Coach Paul Brown—was insisting today that the New York Giants-Cleveland Browns game in New York Sunday will determine the 1951 pro football title.

"Not at all," the Cleveland coach said sternly. "It's an important game, but it won't clinch the championship for anybody. It's too early in the season."

As for the Browns:

Though they're No. 1 and have only one loss, he maintains they have played "poor but lucky football" this season. They have some other tough games coming up, too: the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles, for example.

The Giants? That's somebody else's problem. But football, he pointed out, is an unpredictable sort of game. The Giants, No. 2 in the National Football Conference, have lost one—to the Browns—and tied one.

Yet Brown certainly isn't questioning the idea that the Giants are the Browns' toughest rivals (they've split, 2-2, since the Browns joined the NFL).

Toughest Team

"That's easy to figure out," he says. "They're physically the toughest team—and I'm talking about muscle.

"Look at that team. The Giants picked the core of the old New York Yankees' defense when the All-America and National League consolidated.

"I mean people like Otto Schnellbacher, the finest pass interceptor in the business, Arnold Weinmeister, a great tackle, and Harmon Rowe.

"Also, they have a coach, Steve Owen, who knows what to do with that kind of material."

Though he keeps mentioning how "poor" his Browns play at times, Brown has a smile in his voice when he says it. Insofar as Otto Graham his quarterback, is concerned, Brown even admits he isn't really disgusted.

Otto Like A Son

"Sure, I said some while back Otto was a disappointment. But, you know, I want Otto to be the greatest quarterback in the world and sometimes he's a little too easy going," he says earnestly.

"It's the same way you feel when your son won't wash behind his ears. He's still your son and you think the world of him."

On paper, the Browns appear to be up for this game—halfback Tommy James is the only man on the injured list. But Brown thinks his players are pretty fagged out from the weekly Sunday whacking they take.

"You know and I know," he says, "that every time the Browns go out on the field . . . sure, it starts with a handshake, but the other team is laying for us.

"They're all saying to each other: 'Okay gang, this is it.' That sort of thing is hard on any team."

Brown never knows what the Giants will pull on his team in the way of strategy. They use 'em all, he says: the A, the double A, the B, the T.

"Us?" he asks. "Naw, we'll be doing the same old thing. We never have anything new."

Top Trotter Sold To Two Ohio Breeders

Demon Hanover Purchased By Wooster Attorneys

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—(AP)—Demon Hanover who won the 1948 Hambletonian and currently leads the money-winning trotting stallions, has been sold to two Ohio attorneys who will put him at stud.

A spokesman for the U. S. Trotting Association said early today Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hoyt of Bethel, Conn., sold the trotter to Henry and Robert Critchfield of Wooster, O.

The price reportedly was between $75,000 and $100,000.

Demon Hanover was foaled in 1945 at the Hanover Shoe Farms, Harrisburg, Pa. Hoyt bought him at auction for $2600, and three years later drove him home in the Hambletonian to become the first amateur driver to win that classic.

Named the best trotter of the year in 1948, Demon Hanover won the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot the following year, and took seconds in the 1950 and 51 Hambletonian. This year he won the American trotting championship at Roosevelt raceway.

He never missed an engagement in four years of racing until, shortly before the Yonkers Derby last month he became lame in the right hind leg. Hoyt took him home.

His retirement marks the end of a career that made him fourth largest money-winner in harness racing history. He earned about $185,000. He was scheduled shortly to be flown to Paris to compete in the Prix D' Amerique event there.

Demon Hanover is the son of Dean Hanover, out of Sorceress and she by Volomite. He holds a 1:58 and 4/5 mark for the mile, and set a record of 3:06 and 2/5 for a mile and a half over a half-mile track, which since has been broken.

The trotting association spokesman said the sale means automatic retirement although if a horse has overcome its lameness. The Critchfields, a well known harness racing family, operate the Gay Acres breeding farm at Wooster.

Marysville Backers Expect Another Strong Cage Team

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 14 — Marysville High school, which has had great Class B cage teams during the past two years, will have another one of excellent calibre this winter.

Coach Warren Widner has three lettermen returning from last year's varsity, which was co-champion of the Mid-Six league, central district title holder, and regional runner-up while compiling a 19-5 record.

Lettermen back for another year of service are Bill Coder, 6-3 center; Jim Kleiber, 6-1 forward; and Jim DeGood, a guard.

Followers of the Monarch cagers are even more anxious to get the season rolling this year than in the past because Marysville can now boast of one of the best gyms in the state following the recent completion of the annex to the old one.

Modern Design

The seating capacity has been increased to 1,500 persons and the playing floor now measures 50x84, which is nearing college dimensions. Glass bankboards are at each end and the most modern electric scoreboards are on each side.

Athletic director G. L. Kingsmore announces the following sixteen game schedule that has Columbus North as the Monarchs' first opponent on November 30. The cut in the number of games came about through the new tournament ruling on exempted villages.

The schedule: Nov. 30, at Columbus North; Dec. 4, at Plain City; Dec. 7, Richwood; Dec. 14, at Delaware. Dec. 21, Bellefontaine; Dec. 28, London. Jan. 4, Grove City; Jan. 11, at Worthington; Jan. 15, Plain City; Jan. 18, Westerville; Jan. 22, at London; Jan. 25, Hilliards. Feb. 1, at Grove City; Feb. 5, at Hilliards; Feb. 8, Worthington; Feb. 12, at Westerville.

Pleasant Wins First Game

Pleasant School opened its 1951-52 basketball season last night with a 62 to 55 victory over Magnetic Springs. Magnetic Springs won the reserve game, 23 to 11.

Karras And O'Connell Lead Illini Attack

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—If Rose Bowl-rushing Illinois, the nation's No. 3 team, needed a business name it would be Karras & O'Connell.

The unbeaten Illini barge into Ohio State in their semi-final Big Ten start Saturday with halfback Johnny Karras and quarterback Tom O'Connell responsible for exactly half of 2,260 yards rolled up by Illinois aloft and overland in seven games.

Karras, who has scored 12 touchdowns, one less than the Illini season record shared by Red Grange and Buddy Young, is the workhorse of the razor sharp Illini attack.

But the Argo, Ill., express isn't run to death by clever O'Connell, who has an uncanny knack of knowing when the opposition is set up for a damaging pass.

Karras has hauled the ball 117 times for 530 yards and a 4.6 average in Illini wins over UCLA, Wisconsin, Syracuse, Washington, Indiana, Michigan and Iowa.

The slick 170-pound halfback also has grabbed 14 passes for 108 yards and an over-all gain of 644 yards.

O'Connell, 180-pound Chicagoan, has completed 45 of 72 passes for 448 yards, six touchdowns and a .597 percentage. In 16 "sneaks," he has nudged 19 yards.

LaRue Lists Cage Schedule

LaRue High School today announced its 1951-52 basketball season. The season opened last night with a home game against Marseilles. Three open dates remain on the schedule which runs through Feb. 8 when the LaRue cagers travel to Meeker for a Marion County League tilt.

The complete schedule follows: Nov. 27, Mt. Victory. Nov. 30, open; Dec. 7, Waldo; Dec. 14, at Morral; Dec. 18, open; Dec. 21, Martel; Jan. 4, at Caledonia; Jan. 11, Prospect; Jan. 18, New Bloomington; Jan. 22, at Marseilles; Jan. 25, at Pleasant; Jan. 29, open; Feb. 1, Green Camp; Feb. 8, at Meeker.

Can't Finish Worse Than Second

Win Over Fremont Would Give League Title To Marion

Harding can finish no worse than second place in the Buckeye League and can clinch the title with a win Friday night over league-leading Fremont Ross.

A 27-27 tie with Fostoria is the only blot on the Plexies' league record. They hold wins over Bowling Green and Findlay. The Giants have rolled over Findlay, Bowling Green and Fostoria. Third-place Bowling Green has a record of two wins and two losses in league competition.

Ranked 10th

Ranked 10th in the Associated Press weekly Ohio football ratings, the Fremont crew will be gunning for its first undefeated season here Friday night. The Giants have been held only by Columbus East who tied them 13-13.

The Harding coaching staff has stepped up the tempo of drill sessions in preparation for the powerful Ross crew. Other Buckeye League opponents have had trouble stopping Fremont's two backfield greats, John Lewis and Jerome Surratt. However, Harding scouts have given Coach Pete Howison comprehensive reports on the team and the locals have been working on defensive assignments to stop the ground game.

Should the Presidents upset Ross it would give them undisputed possession of the top rung of the Buckeye League. Ross would drop to second place.

Girls Basketball Team To Practice

The second practice session of the Marion Grey Toppers, girls basketball team, will be held Thursday night at the YMCA. The session has been set for 7 p.m.

The first practice was held last week. Twelve girls turned out and a tentative opening game has been booked for later this month. A team spokesman said the squad may be forced to scrap the girl cage rules and switch to the rules used by men's teams since most team officials contacted for games are using the regular cage rules.

Tulsa at Top In Offense

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—Tulsa's Hurricanes have stormed to the top of the nation's major football teams in total offense with an average of 485.9 yards per game.

The Oklahomans, who netted 705 yards against Kansas State on Saturday, dislodged Holy Cross as the yardage leader.

Tulsa's potent ground-gaining attack also moved them to the top of the ladder in rushing. The Hurricanes have clunched along the ground to the tune of 365.3 yards per game, according to the figures released by the NCAA statistical bureau.

Loyola of Los Angeles, which takes to the air lanes almost exclusively, heads the passing parade for the seventh straight week. They've completed 125 out of 242 for a 51.7 percentage.

In individual statistics, Princeton's Dick Kazmaier appears a cinch to sweep past Johnny Bright of Drake and capture the total offense title. Kazmaier, with two games remaining, is only 83 yards behind Bright, who has finished his collegiate football career. Bright totaled 1,553 yards in nine games, while Kazmaier has accounted for 1,470 in seven.

Picks Illinois Over OSU By 2 Touchdowns

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Nov. 14—(AP)—A slightly-reeling grid oracle goes into a semi-final trance. (Those three bumps last week were from Michigan State, Minnesota and Cornell):

Illinois 21, Ohio State 7—If Ohio State thinks Rose Bowl-bound Illinois is tightening up, the Bucks should be referred to Iowa's Hawkeyes. "All we saw was speed, speed and more speed," said Hawk Coach Len Raffensperger after Saturday's 40-13 triumph at Illinois. And the Illini have a quarterback who knows what to do with that speed in passing wizard Tommy O'Connell.

Michigan State 28, Indiana 7—There's bound to be a let down by the Spartans after deflating Notre Dame, but the Hoosiers don't have the horses to exploit it. Biggie Munn won't let MSC's first perfect season since 1913 slip out of his grasp.

Wisconsin 20, Iowa 6—Wisconsin, still Rose Bowl hopeful, will try to improve on what Illinois did to Iowa. The Badgers claim their 14-10 loss to Illinois was a grave injustice, but at this reading Illinois wouldn't need mirrors to do it again.

Others, quickly:

Michigan 14, Northwestern 7; Purdue 18, Minnesota 13; Notre Dame 21, North Carolina 7, Marquette 19, Detroit 7.

ORTIZ HANGS UP GLOVES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14—(AP)—Manuel Ortiz, who ruled the world bantamweight division from 1942 to 1950, has decided to hang up his gloves. Ortiz, now a rotund 35, was slated to meet Ray Famechecon in Paris Dec. 3 but told his former manager, Tommy Farmer, yesterday that he is quitting the ring for keeps.

Joe Wolfe Booked For Wrestling Match

Joe Wolfe will substitute for Maurice Roberre Thursday night in a wrestling match with Bill Zimovich at the armory, promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today.

Wolfe was signed by Fishbaugh when Roberre was unable to fill the committment. The two will meet in a 60-minute bout for two-out-of-three falls.

You can work a little soap into cracks between floor boards to stop them from squeaking.

Fight Moved Up To Benefit TV Viewers

Coast Accommodates Eastern Fans With Early Bout

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—They're putting on a world championship fight in Los Angeles tonight at seven p.m. (local time) so that eastern fans can see it on the video screens at their usual hour . . . Next thing you may see the wrestlers mixed up in morning soap operas. They're both good, clean fun . . . The Amateur Athletic Union will consider a proposal to permit physical education teachers who aren't athletic coaches to compete as amateurs . . . Good idea, but it doesn't go far enough . . . We never could see why teaching, say, football or golf (or even playing it for money) should make a guy a professional swimmer or javelin-thrower . . . Dickie Davis, the 140-pound Wake Forest quarterback, passed so effectively against Boston College that Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau commented "He looks more like a baseball pitcher than a football thrower" . . . Maybe Lou could use somebody who looks like a pitcher.

* * *

SLIGHT CASE OF CONFUSION: Texas Tech plays Tulsa in football next Saturday . . . Buddy Brothers, Tulsa coach, is a Tech graduate. Dewitt Weaver, the Tech boss, was Buddy's assistant at Tulsa last year. So was Jack Mitchell, now a Tech assistant . . . Darrell Royal, Jack's successor, and Wade Walker and Bobby Goad, also assisting at Tech, all were Mitchell's college teammates at Oklahoma U . . . Royal and Walker both were on the North Carolina State staff last fall . . . And two of Tulsa's first string players were coached in junior college by Tech's Wyatt Posey . . . If those guys all jump up to watch some exciting play, they'll have a heck of a time finding the right places on the benches again.

* * *

SHORTS AND SHELLS: Looks like Princeton has another Dick Kazmaier coming up in Dick Frye, 160-pound freshman tailback . . . In the last three games Frye has scored four touchdowns, passed for four more and gained most of the team's yardage . . . Maybe its just an act to steam up his Giants, but Steve Owen seems to have worked up a real peeve against the Cleveland Browns . . . His big complaint is that the Giants had to practice on a field outside the Cleveland stadium where Brownie players could, and did, drive up to take a look . . . Four rival coaches are on record as saying that Georgia's Harry Babcock is the best offensive back they have seen this season . . . Alabama's Red Drew makes it stronger: "Babcock is the fastest, most elusive end to cover I have seen since Don Hutson."

Joe Says Tax Situation "About Cleaned Up"

TOKYO, Nov. 14—(AP)—Joe Louis said today his income tax situation is "just about cleaned up."

But he added that he has no plans to retire.

The former world heavyweight champion arrived by plane for a series of boxing exhibitions in major Japanese cities. A portion of the gate receipts will go to charity.

Veeck Defends Garver After Boudreau Slur

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14—(AP)—Owner Bill Veeck has jumped to the defense of Ned Garver, terming Boston Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau's appraisal of the St. Louis Browns pitching ace a silly statement.

Boudreau said Monday he would not swap Red Socker Ted Williams for Garver, No. 2 finisher in The Associated Press poll to determine the American League's most valuable player last season.

Not only did Boudreau spike rumors of a trade, but he also suggested Garver might not be an effective pitcher under pressure with a pennant contender.

That didn't set well with Veeck, who once had Boudreau as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Great Competitor

In an interview yesterday, Veeck said "that's a silly statement. Boudreau always has been a great competitor, and should recognize Garver as another."

Veeck also had an appraisal of his own to offer on the Boudreau-Red Sox-Garver situation.

"Who said Boston was such a great team?" Veeck asked. "Why they are nothing but a bunch of morning glories who fade out just when the going gets rough. They always have the best talent in the league, but when the chips are down what happens?"

Veeck also lit into other critics. He says he doesn't like the idea of outsiders trying to tell baseball how to run its business.

Reserve Clause

The St. Louis Browns' owner commented after hearing Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of a House subcommittee investigating baseball, say last night that if it weren't for the reserve clause, the Browns' Ned Garver would be making between $90,000 and $100,000 a year. Celler said Garver made $18,000 this year with a 20-12 record.

Said Veeck:

"What was Garver's record in 1950? I've never heard yet of anybody paying a pitcher who lost five more games than he won $100,000."

Garver had a 13-18 record in 1950.

"I doubt very much if Mr. Celler knows about the intricacies of baseball," Veeck added. "I certainly wouldn't assume to tell Mr. Celler anything about politics. I suggest he reciprocate."

De-emphasis Move Under Way

Many May Follow Yale In Dropping Spring Football

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—Many of the nation's major colleges were ready today to follow Yale's example of dropping spring football, but they were playing it cagey — they wanted assurances it be done on a national scale.

An attitude of watchful waiting generally followed the report that university presidents, alarmed over the future of the sport, were contemplating reforms likely to affect spring practice, bowl games and the two-platoon system.

Yale University, one of the ivy-covered institutions that helped give birth to American football, announced yesterday that the Eli would drop spring practice, beginning in 1952.

Smaller colleges such of Williams, Wesleyan and Amherst already had taken such action. Yale was the first of the big ones.

Others Talk About It

Others had talked about it, such as the 17-member Southern Conference and the nine-member Pacific Coast League. They recommended the move to their conference directors and to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the parent organization.

The Southern, by an overwhelming vote of its presidents, also recommended banning all bowl games. The Pacific Coast suggested re-examination of post-season football and the two-platoon system.

Here was the situation in other conferences.

Southeastern—members known to favor spring practice and continuance of bowls, but these items placed on the agenda for the December conference meeting.

Eastern—its some 90 members, including the strict Ivy League and many less strict independents, not committed to any course of action. Most of the Ivy schools said they planned to continue spring practice.

Southwest

Southwest—question of eliminating spring training and bowl games listed for discussion at meeting Dec. 7-8. Most members reportedly are ready to follow any national trend but they are known to favor bowl games.

Big Seven—situation same as in the Southwest.

Big Ten—committed to a three-year contract with Rose Bowl. Question of spring drills to come up at December meeting. Secretary Kenneth (Tug) Wilson says he doesn't know members' attitude.

Football so far has not been drawn into anything similar to the basketball scandals but the sport has become so highly commercialized that more than 80 colleges have been forced in the last year to drop it from their program. A recent effort to regulate athletics through a sanity code restricting financial aid died from lack of member support.

Baker, Riviera Draw in Bout At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14—(AP)—Pittsburgh's Bob Baker still is undefeated in heavyweight boxing circles but his record bears considerable tarnish today.

Kid Riviera of Chicago, a battler who has had only two fights in more than two years and who carried a lot of excess fat into the ring, held Baker to a 10-round draw here last night before a crowd of only 2,635 fans who rattled around a bit in the Big Cincinnati Garden.

The draw came after Baker had won 25 straight professional fights and the Pittsburgh battler didn't show much to indicate that he's ready for such fellows as champ Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles or Rocky Marciano. He's currently ranked fourth among heavyweight contenders.

The fight wasn't without its boos and protests, however.

The customers booed the decision. And at the finish Chris Dundee, Baker's manager was vociferous in his protests of the decision.

FORD'S PRICE ROLL BACK CAMPAIGN

THE TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION!
PRICE CONTROL? PHOOEY!
OPS Is Granting Price Increases All Along The Line!

When will it ever stop? What can be done about it? We, as a store, are mighty sick of it, too, and are almost scared to tell and ask the prices we should, and that all others ask for the same merchandise. BUT . . . FORD FURNITURE is going to DO something about it RIGHT NOW!

Taking a cue from big business, high production, etc. WE ARE GOING TO VOLUNTARILY CUT THE NORMAL PROFIT taken by all stores . . . WAY DOWN . . . depending on high volume, increased sales production, to cover our expenses and costs. We are doing this in an HONEST way, and HONEST endeavor, at a time and season, when just before Christmas, most stores hold prices at the HIGHEST levels. If this works . . . it will be the FIRST effort by an individual, business, or group, to FIGHT . . . DEFY . . . PUSH BACK the ever increasing costs of living, by CUTTING HIS OWN PROFITS SUBSTANTIALLY!

Harding Class To Give Play Dec. 5 and 6

3-Act Mystery To Be Presented By Juniors

"The Red Spider," mystery in three acts, will be presented by the Junior Class of Harding High School, Wednesday and Thursday nights, Dec. 5 and 6, at Edison Junior High School.

The story concerns a wealthy doctor who leaves an old estate in the North Carolina mountains and turns it into a health resort for nervous patients. Letters signed by "The Red Spider" begin to appear, warning everyone to leave the estate. Believing it to be a practical joke, all remain and the Red Spider begins its murderous work.

Included in the cast are Edwin Falor, Carol Sparks, Georgeann Zuck, Loyette Stricklin, Marilyn Turner, Stanley Ruggles, Pat Senif, Kelly Shelton, Nora McGinn, Dan Brickley and Joe Donithen.

Calvert Is Director

William Calvert, speech and geography teacher, is directing the play, with Bonnie Kern as student director. Bob Ward, general technician, is in charge of lighting under the direction of Mr. Calvert.

Committees for the play have been selected by Mr. Calvert and the faculty advisers of the various committees.

The ticket committee headed by Jerry Wingett is composed of Barbara Barnhart, Dorothy Oboryshko, Joanne Hart, Pat Titus, Betty Dowler and Mary Ann Kuntz. Miss Minnie Winder is the adviser.

The stage crew is composed of Fred Ulsh, chairman, Steve Lytle, Bob Unland, Gavin Kemmerly and Dave McCreight. The committee's adviser is Raymond Tata.

Usher Committees

Mrs. Everett Grigsby, adviser of the usher committees has appointed chairmen and committees for both nights. Wednesday night, Sharon Evans, chairman, will serve with Beverlee Friedel, Marilyn Kellogg, Jane Larkin, Susanne Reardon, Aljean Turner, Joyce Williams and Virginia Faine.

On Thursday night, Sharon Burke will be chairman with Sue Keller, Peggy Kellogg, Martha Mason, Maxine Sanderson, Judy White, Shirley Blair and Beverly McGrath on her committee.

The make-up committee with chairman Rosie Kaelber includes Arleen Cleveland, Marilyn Fetter, Roberta Weininger, Harriett Johnson, Ruth Smith and Barbara Wolf. Mrs Ruth Ann Hinamon is advising this committee.

Realtors Hear Sen. Bricker

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14—(AP)—U. S. Senator John W Bricker (R-Ohio) today described the United Nations draft covenant on human rights as a "new threat to the private housing industry."

Sen. Bricker, in a speech prepared for delivery at the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, sharply criticized Part III of the draft covenant. He declared it "purports to guarantee to people everywhere a host of so-called economic, social and cultural rights, including the right to adequate housing."

He asserted that part of the covenant "incorporates the fundamental principles of Marxian socialism."

Comparing the rights recognized under the Constitution of the United States with those listed in the U.N. covenant, Sen. Bricker said:

"The heart of the Constitution consists of a series of prohibitions on the power of government. These prohibitions recognize the fact that government is the traditional foe of liberty. Accordingly, almost all our basic freedoms fit the description of 'freedom to be let alone.'

"Part III of the draft covenant, on the other hand, would make it obligatory for the government to try to satisfy the unlimited economic and social wants of all its citizens.

"The attempt to satisfy these aspirations through governmental action would require the federal government to assume absolute control over the lives of all its citizens."

Police Report 3 Minor Accidents

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Swimming Pools All Around

More and more the television industry is beginning to resemble the movie lots back in the old lush days when a film company thought nothing of dishing out $250,000 for a story that was never filmed. Complete madness has not yet struck the TV boys but, at the rate they're going, it won't be long before everyone has a swimming pool and the big question is how much longer yours is than the other guy's.

John Crosby

Just recently NBC signed up Ralph Edwards for a five-a-week daytime show. The price for five years' $6,500,000. That's a lot of dough for Ralph Edwards or anyone else. The movie people in their plushest days thought a minute before paying dough like that on the line even for Clark Gable CBS has Sam Levenson under contract for about $150,000 a year and has no time spot to put him in and no prospect of a show for him.

The corridors of the American Broadcasting Company are thronged with entertainers drawing down $1,000 a week. A lot of them, I'll bet, you never heard of. Over at CBS, according to a corridor gag, the accounting department quakes with terror every time Hubbell Robinson (vice president in charge of programs) picks up a fountain pen. NBC, which wields a lustier fountain pen than Robinson, signed Milton Berle for thirty years, surrendering one million clams in the process. (That's exclusive of Berle's regular weekly stipend which is not exactly chickenfeed.)

The age of folly, in short, is upon us again. And only a few short years ago, a young actress was moaning about her $75 pay for ten days of the hardest kind of work for a Kraft Theater production. Today, it'd cost the network more to make an appointment with her agent. I don't know where all the dough is coming from but, in any case, the networks seem intent on getting rid of it fast as possible.

One lad I know was foolish enough to mention to a network man that he was going to Europe and was casually offered $1,000 a week to shoot some film. It was never made very clear just what sort of footage he was supposed to shoot or what use would be made of it. Another man, a writer, got a network offer of $1,500 to go to Italy to pick up background material. He's not at all sure what kind of background material he's supposed to pick up but there's an awful lot of background material in that ancient nation. I don't think he'll have any trouble. If really pressed, he can always dig into the ruins left by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, after they finished "Quo Vadis", and come back with a few stones from the Circus Maximus.

Any new rich, glamorous industry like television attracts hordes of hangers-on who are pretty hard to explain. Television is no exception. Here again the parallel with the movies is striking. Anyone who has ever been on a movie set is instantly struck by the vast hordes of people standing around who are not actors, directors, technicians, who are not noticeably useful in any particular way, who are just standing there, staring.

Well, the standing-and-staring set has transferred a large part of its activities to television sets. There, along with the actors and the singing dog acts, you'll find a rich collection of stage mothers, press agents, second cousins of the sponsor, advertising agency men, and that supercharged group of individuals who like to refer to themselves as artists representatives—all getting terribly in the way and contributing approximately nothing to the advance of arts.

Political Rift Widens Among Dixie Leaders

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 14—(AP)—Southern governors returned to their homes today with deep and bitter political differences still clouding the future course of the Democratic party in the south.

The three-day southern governors conference was non-political in its purposes. But it spotlighted the rift between leaders of the States' Rights Democrats and those who support President Truman and his administration.

One thing appeared certain in the aftermath of the conference: political peace in the south can be achieved only by a compromise, either on the Democratic party platform or the party's presidential candidate.

States' Rights leaders made it clear they will not accept Mr. Truman as the Democratic standard bearer in 1952. They equally were emphatic that the price of party peace must include elimination of the civil rights issue from the party platform.

On the other side, the pro-Truman forces displayed a willingness to challenge openly any move to organize a southern revolt against Mr. Truman.

Among other qualifications, women Marine recruits must be at least 18 and less than 31.

MOORE ORPHANS ATTEND FUNERAL OF PARENTS. Surrounded by relatives and friends at the funeral of their parents are four of the 11 children orphaned when a two-car collision killed Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore of Pontiac, Mich. Seated near the two caskets are (from left) Tom, 12, Sharon, 11, Ann, 13, and Jerry, 15. The children's grandmother is seated to the right.

OFFER HOME TO 11 CRASH ORPHANS. Wealthy Pittsburgh insurance broker John D. Babb and his wife, Jean, (above), parents of three children themselves, are offering a home to 11 Leonard, Mich., orphans "if we can have them altogether." Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore, parents of the children, were killed instantly in a two-car collision near Pontiac, Mich. At present relatives are caring for the children and 15-year-old Gerard Moore has offered "to quit school and go to work" to help out. The children range in age frm six weeks to 15 years. Organized efforts to handle contributions for the orphans are in progress.

Patrol Lists One Accident, Three Arrests

A minor accident and three arrests yesterday were reported today by the state highway patrol.

Arthur J. Richer, 20, of North Adams, Mass., lost control of his car on a curve and struck a tree as he was driving south on Route 42, a mile north of Mt. Gilead, last night at 8:50. The car was considerably damaged. Richer was not injured.

Conrad Harris, 21, of Mansfield was arrested at 4:55 p.m. for failure to stop at a stop sign on Route 61. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Alvin Spriggs, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead, and was fined $25 and costs.

Paul L. Milame, 30, of Inglewood, Calif., and Kenneth Monte, 22, of Chicago were both arrested at 6:45 p.m. on charges of speeding on Route 30-N. They entered pleas of guilty before L. C. Schoenberger, justice of the peace in Upper Sandusky, and each was fined $20 and costs.

REBEKAHS PLAN PARTY

Plans for a Christmas party and quarterly birthday dinner Dec. 14 were made when Wayside Rose, Rebekah Lodge, met Nov. 9 in the I.O.O.F. Hall. An exchange of gifts and a white elephant sale will be features of the party, to be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Mrs. Anna Cunningham, Noble Grand, was in charge of the meeting, and first nominations of officers were made.

A Kentucky state commission studying the state's registration laws estimates there are between 300,000 and 400,000 names illegally registered on Kentucky's voting rolls.

2 Youths Get Life For Slaying Nurse

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 14—(AP)—Two youths faced mandatory life prison terms today for the "beer and gasoline money" robbery-slaying of nurse Pauline Campbell. A third youth could get the same term.

William R. Morey III and Jacob Max Pell, both 18, were convicted by a circuit court jury of six men and six women last night of first degree murder. David Lee Royal, also 18, was found guilty of second degree murder.

Miss Campbell, 34, was slain and robbed as she was returning to her rooming house near the University of Michigan campus after a hospital tour of duty the night of Sept. 15.

Driver Fined $50 After Auto Chase

Lorain Alvin Thompson, 24, of near Marion was fined $50 and costs and had his driving rights suspended for one year when he pleaded guilty today to a charge of speeding and resisting arrest.

Police officers in a cruiser saw Thompson driving south on Bellefontaine Ave at about 1:30 a.m. today going at an excessive rate of speed. They started after him, but Thompson attempted to elude them.

For the next 45 minutes he led police a chase over 40 miles of back country roads south of Marion at speeds from 65 to 85 miles per hour. He was finally overtaken when he tried to come back into Marion at 2:20 a.m. Patrolman John Long and Captain Merlin Mitton took part in the chase.

Marvin Herschell Byrd, 29, of 707 Herman St., was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of driving without a driver's license. He was arrested on W. Center St. at 8:37 a.m. today.

Fred Dean Fugna, 28, of Bowling Green, Ky., was fined $100 and costs and had his driver's license suspended for three years after he pleaded guilty to driving while drunk. He was arrested by police on N. Main St., at 1:05 a.m. yesterday. He paid his fine and was released.

FRENCH SLASH IMPORTS

PARIS, Nov. 14—(AP)—France announced today a drastic slash of imports imposed by a shortage of dollar reserves. Imports from the dollar zone for the period up to June 30, 1952 will be reduced to about $500 million, a cabinet spokesman said. Finance minister Rene Mayer indicated to the cabinet the nation was in for serious belt tightening, the spokesman said.

Two beavers recently built a dam 18 feet long and 6 feet wide near Walpole, Mass., in three weeks.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(UP)—Stocks opened narrowly irregular today on light volume.

Opening trades generally held to small amounts as traders moved cautiously. Before the opening, brokers reported buy and sell orders about even—meaning a practical equilibrium of demand and supply.

Few issues moved outside a fractional area. Ingersoll-Rand lost a point, while Rohm & Haas gained a point. General Motors had a 1,000 share block and Remington Rand, 1,200 shares. The former held steady while Remington gained ¼ point.

Small gains were noted in such issues as Du Pont, American Telephone, and Chrysler. Such stocks as Illinois Central, National Distillers, Phelps Dodge, and Radio Corp. eased.

Opening prices included:

U.S. Steel 40⅛; Goodrich 57¾; Kennecott 87⅞; American Airlines 16⅛; Pennsylvania Railroad 17⅝; Rock Island 48⅜, and Consolidated Edison 31½, all unchanged.

Chrysler 68⅜ up ⅛; Texas Gulf Sulphur 107½ up ½; General Foods 41⅞ up ¼; Lockheed 21⅝ up ⅛; Cities Service 107⅞ up ¼; and Bethlehem Steel 50⅜ up ¼.

PRINCE CHARLES 3

LONDON, Nov. 14 — (AP) — Britain's best-loved little boy — royal grandson Prince Charles—is having a birthday today. He's got stacks of presents—and there's only one thing to mar the occasion. His parents can't get home in time for the big day. Prince Charles is a study, self-possessed 3.

Most ancient Greek hippodromes, constructed for horse and chariot races, were placed on a hill slope so that excavated material from one side could serve as an embankment for the other.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The Army is taking dogs again but for the time being married dogs are exempt.

* * *

In the ranks of the humans we are up to the married ones and passing on rapidly to those with children

* * *

This has become necessary because once again we are embarked on a great crusade and someday may find out what it is

* * *

But there is no doubt that we are in a period of grave emergency just as the President said before he lit out for Florida and a six week vacation

* * *

It isn't quite grave enough to have kept the port of New York from being tied up or to guarantee that the railroads will keep running on steel will keep pouring but it's a grave emergency.

Truman Busy On Messages

At Work on Addresses To Congress Next Year

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 14 — (AP)—President Truman's press secretary said yesterday he has already started preliminary work on three major messages he will submit to Congress in January.

The secretary, Joseph Short, said he has gone over with his staff the broad outlines of the "state of the union message" and that work is well under way on the budget and economic messages which will follow it.

Sharing importance with the messages to Congress will be the President's meeting sometime in January with British Prime Minister Churchill in Washington.

While their discussions likely will cover the whole range of mutual security, financial aid for Britain will have a major part in them.

There is no disposition on the part of the administration to overlook the importance of an economically strong Great Britain to this country's defense program. And W. Averell Harriman, the new mutual security administrator, will be able to give the President an advance briefing on the English situation.

Particular interest will center in the 1952 election year on what the President will have to say in that "state of the union message" which he always delivers to Congress in person.

That document is expected to lay the groundwork not only for the administration's legislative program but for Democratic campaigners around the country.

ENTERTAIN CIRCLE

Mrs. Franklin Pump Jr. served as co-hostess when Mrs C. W. Cockrell entertained the Good Cheer Circle of King's Daughters Monday night at her home at 585 Park St. Mrs. LaVerne Nash conducted devotions, and the study book topic, "The Methodist Church," was presented by Miss Esther Williams, who also read a poem, "My Religion by Edgar A. Guest. A Christmas exchange will be held by the members at the next meeting, Dec. 10.

No Atom Spy, Just Vagrant

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 14 — (AP)—A recluse who collected atomic and other defense data as a hobby faces a vagrancy charge today — nothing more serious

The FBI accepted Otto Frederick Maynard's story that he is just a shy amateur photographer beating high rent by living in a cardboard shack under the strategic San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

Oakland police, investigating a tip, found photographs of such things as naval installations, rail yards and the cyclotron at the University of California. Maynard said he took the pictures because they were easily photographed

As for literature on the A-bomb, it was all on what to do in case of a bombing. Maynard just wanted to be ready—if and when.

Maynard works as a gardener in nearby Berkeley.

Michigan has a land area of 57,980 miles and almost as much water. The Michigan boundaries take in an area of more than 40,000 square miles of lakes and rivers.

Guaranteed Winter Starting brings you the Most Complete Winter Protection available!

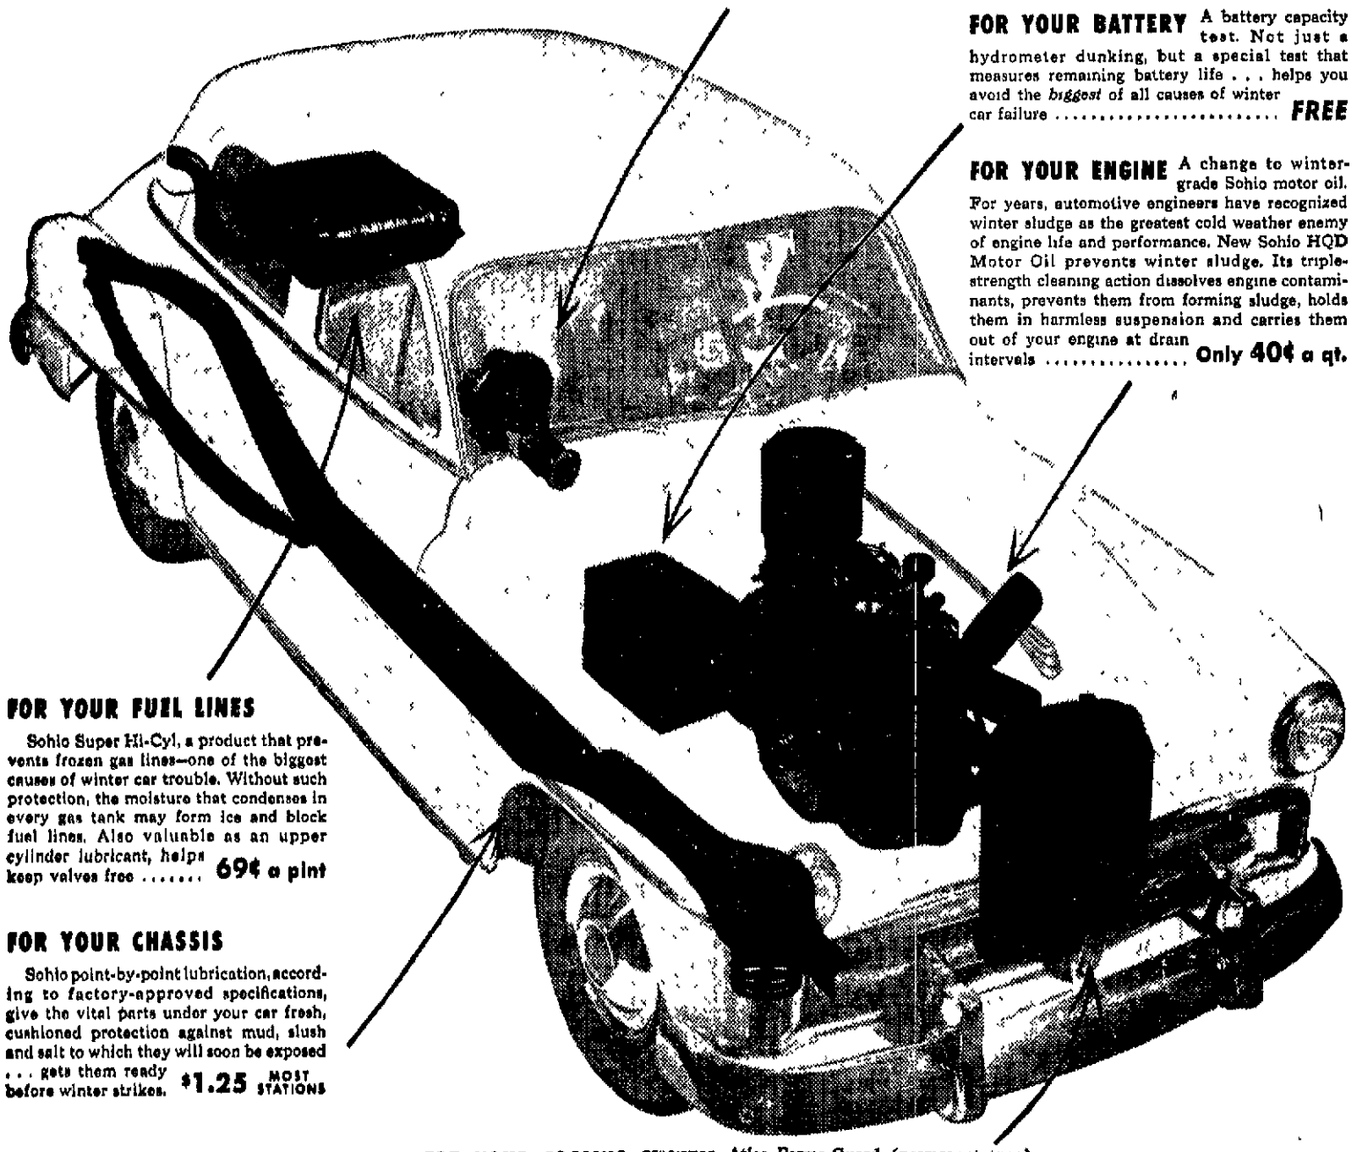
FOR YOUR GEARS A change to winter-weight Sohiolube Gear Lubricant in place of heavier contaminated summer lubricants in non-automatic transmissions and all differentials. Makes starting and shifting easier, gives vital gears a full season of sure protection. Most cars need six pounds or less. 30¢ a lb.

FOR YOUR BATTERY A battery capacity test. Not just a hydrometer dunking, but a special test that measures remaining battery life . . . helps you avoid the biggest of all causes of winter car failure ..... FREE

FOR YOUR ENGINE A change to winter-grade Sohio motor oil. For years, automotive engineers have recognized winter sludge as the greatest cold weather enemy of engine life and performance. New Sohio HQD Motor Oil prevents winter sludge. Its triple-strength cleaning action dissolves engine contaminants, prevents them from forming sludge, holds them in harmless suspension and carries them out of your engine at drain intervals ..... Only 40¢ a qt.



FOR YOUR FUEL LINES

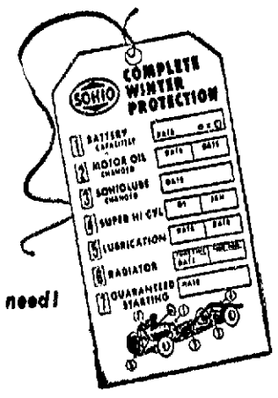
Sohio Super Hi-Cyl, a product that prevents frozen gas lines—one of the biggest causes of winter car trouble. Without such protection, the moisture that condenses in every gas tank may form ice and block fuel lines. Also valuable as an upper cylinder lubricant, helps keep valves free ..... 69¢ a pint

FOR YOUR CHASSIS

Sohio point-by-point lubrication, according to factory-approved specifications, give the vital parts under your car fresh, cushioned protection against mud, slush and salt to which they will soon be exposed . . . gets them ready before winter strikes. $1.25 MOST STATIONS

FOR YOUR COOLING SYSTEM Atlas Perma-Guard (permanent type) Anti-Freeze eliminates the radiator problem in one stop. Non-evaporating, requires no refills, non-corrosive, completely safe ..... $3.75 a gal.

And, if you use the alcohol type, get Super Sohio. It takes less to protect. Contains special residual protection ingredient that prevents solid ice and block cracking even if anti-freeze boils away. $1.50 a gal.



Just what you need and only what you need!

Including Sohio's exclusive

GUARANTEED STARTING

To get it, just winterize with:

1 Any winter-grade Sohio motor oil 2 Sohio winter Gear Lubricant

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

Mrs. Donald Tower entertained the Trinity Baptist Ruth Mather Circle in her home at 200 Merchant Ave. Thursday, assisted by Mrs. Harry Woodall. Business was conducted by Mrs. Ralph Epley, and Mrs. A. G. Spring led devotions. Carpet rags were sewed and tax stamps counted. Guests were Mrs. L. A. Wood and Mrs. Dean Hinamon, and five children. A Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Pearl Thatcher of 379 Forest St., with Mrs. Kenneth Johnston as assistant hostess.

The oldest of the U. S. mints was established in Philadelphia in 1792.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Child's Appetite

There would be far fewer feeding problems in children if parents were not so concerned about seeing their youngsters eat well. It goes without saying that every child should be well-fed, but this does not necessarily mean eating everything that is put before him.

A great many parents do not realize that a diminished appetite is normal for most children after the first year. Until this time, growth is extremely rapid. it then slows down to a slower pace and the child's food requirements are by that time much diminished.

Thus, a little child's refusal to eat as much as he did previously, or his failure to be hungry at every meal does not mean that he is sick, but only that he is following Nature's pattern of development.

At the age of 5 or 6, he begins to grow rapidly again, and the lagging appetite will reassert itself if it has not been spoiled in the meantime by incessant urgings to eat more.

Many parents misinterpret the child's refusal of one or more certain foods as a loss of appetite. Such parents fail to make allowances for personal likes and dislikes which show up early in some youngsters. Nor do they consider that substitutes for the rejected foods are always available.

Hunger is a normal, healthy condition. The child does not realize that eating is fun unless he is allowed to get hungry. Feeding between meals, a desire for sweets, or fear on the part of the mother that the child did not take enough food at the last meal may reduce the hunger stimulus and start a feeding problem. When parents become aware that at child's hunger is healthy and normal, many feeding problems will be cleared up.

Food should be served to children in pleasant surroundings, and no attempt should be made to force them to eat. No remarks should be made about the amount of food eaten. Many times, children eat best in the company of other children. It has been found that an only child may be helped by being allowed to eat with children of neighborhood families.

Questions and Answers

M. H.: Nearly every summer, I develop itching sores on my feet, usually between the toes. Little blisters form which crack and break open. What would cause this?

Answer: This condition most probably is due to athlete's foot which is a fungus infection. It is most prevalent in the summer because a person's feet perspire more at that time, promoting a greater spread of the infection.

Galion G.I. Home After Three Years

GALION — U. S. Army Cpl. Clyde Eugene Dunaway is home for a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunaway of Galion after three years in Japan and Korea. Before starting home, he re-enlisted, and will be re-assigned after his furlough here. He arrived in Galion Friday.

Cpl. Dunaway received abdominal wounds while fighting in Korea on July 30, 1950. He was hospitalized in Japan, but continued serving in the Far East theatre. He has a brother, Sgt. Harvey Dunaway, who came home last summer after service in Japan and Korea. Another brother, William C. Dunaway is a member of the 3584th Transportation Company of the National Guard, here, which has been called into active service.

CIRCLE HEARS REV. BOOTH

No Particular Hurry

THE complaint by Kremlin spokesmen that the United States is stalling in the Korean negotiations probably has a solid foundation.

This country's negotiators tumbled over themselves at the outset to accommodate the spokesmen for the Communist conspiracy. Acting on orders from Washington, they turned on all the green lights to make certain there would be no excuse for delay.

In fact, the United States started the whole cease-fire deal by extracting a casual remark from a radio speech by Gromyko early last summer and building it up into an apparent hint that negotiations would be welcome.

It then became evident that the negotiators representing North Korea and Communist China were under instructions from their Russian masters to stall and keep stalling. It has become evident only recently that the negotiators representing the United States and its token allies in North Korea are willing to play the same game. The notion which has been current for many years that all diplomats can out-trade the Yankees at will is taking a setback.

Let's Think Twice

HERE on the one hand is the science writer of Associated Press telling that agency's clients about missiles which some day will cruise in space, until someone decides to bring them back to earth. And on the other hand, the same Associated Press is reporting the coming to earth of more "fireballs" in the southwest. These have been seen by at least as many persons as previously said they had seen "flying saucers" in that part of the country.

There is, of course, no connection. But the head of the Institute of Meteorites at the University of New Mexico, admitting he is puzzled, says he wonders about a possible connection with what is going on in Nevada, where nuclear fission tests are under way. He also should get in touch with the Navy people testing rockets in New Mexico, the inhabitants of Mars and everybody else in the universe with an eye on the stratosphere. Meanwhile, the rest of us had better give second thought to what life would be like if the air were as full of irresponsibility operated vehicles as the highways are now. We let that menace get out of hand by not realizing in time what the guided missile manufacturers up in Detroit were capable of doing.

No Surrender of Rights

SENATOR BRICKER'S crusade to protect the inalienable rights of Americans against hair-splitting by United Nations legalists is continuing.

In a speech Wednesday night, Senator Bricker further defined the position he has taken on this vital matter. "I do not oppose the United Nations as an institution, our participation in it, or appropriations for the activities authorized by its charter," he explained. "But no patriotic American will be able to support the United Nations unless its treaty-making ambitions are curbed. . . There is no greater threat to the existence of the United Nations than the startling spectacle of our delegates using our inherent rights as items of barter at the U.N. conference table."

There is a fatuous argument which claims no cooperative security can be attained in the world while each nation clings to its sovereignty. It is this soft-headed point of view which spawned the notion that even such inalienable rights of U.S. citizens as free speech and a free press might have to be compromised in order to keep other governments in a happy frame of mind.

Senator Bricker is unalterably opposed to that nonsense, as is everybody who is aware of what is being proposed in the draft covenant on human rights. Fortunately, he is willing to make an issue of it—and also fortunately he is willing to make it clear he is more interested in preserving the rights of Americans than in the problematic happiness of foreign governments.

Beating the Turks

ONE not gain in the Korean war which even Senator Taft might be willing to concede is the discovery of the modern Turk as a tough ally. The forthright note to the Kremlin by the Turkish government frankly acknowledging military preparations to resist a possible invasion by Russian satellite armies, is in the same character.

Modern Turkey is a vivid example of what can happen to revitalized old-world countries. The Turkish republic is only 29 years old. Its modernization most recently has been signified by membership in the Atlantic pact group, though Turkey lies in the Middle East. Its decision to join with the West in its quest for security is significant.

There can be no security in anything the Kremlin would offer Turkey or any other country; a satellite nation in the Russian orbit has no security. That is another way of saying that the Soviet Union has no allies, only captive governments which can be forced to fight for Russian interests by the Kremlin's political stooges. The instant any of these governments tried to assert its independence, it would suffer the fate of Yugoslavia. That is why the Turks are arming against Russia.

Churchill's Visit

By David Lawrence

Results May Either Disappoint or Please Him

WASHINGTON

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL, more than any other man in British public life, may know the psychology of the American people but unless he is posted on the latest trends of opinion in the United States his forthcoming visit to President Truman may be the worst disappointment of his career.

LAWRENCE

There are several important phases of the anglo-American situation on which the British prime minister will want to be briefed and the most recent of these is a developing antagonism against lending or granting any more money than has already been appropriated for aid to Europe.

Rightly or wrongly, the impression has been developing that Churchill took over a labor government receivership and is coming to America to get help in reorganizing Britain's whole economic system and that he is counting heavily on the support of American conservatives who presumably are jubilant that a Socialist regime has been defeated in Britain.

But many of these same conservatives are isolationist at heart and, seeing the high taxes on incomes and corporations, are more anxious than ever to curb the flow of aid to Europe. The Truman administration basically has been closer and more sympathetic to British policies than have the Republicans. The Democrats on the other hand are today a bit cool toward the conservative policies that Churchill might bring back. So the prime minister comes to a house not as hospitable politically as it has been before.

* * *

APART FROM the isolationist groups, which though in a minority are powerful, there is a substantial sentiment in America for the preservation of a sound economic base in Europe. The chief executive at the moment arises from a suspicion that Churchill may play on American good nature and generosity and expect his personality and prestige to win what really can come only when the facts about Britain's plight and her willingness to make sacrifices are thoroughly and persuasively presented.

If the British prime minister comes here with a plan that will blaze a trail throughout the British commonwealth of nations in leading perhaps not at once but eventually to a "free enterprise" system that is real and not a disguised form of monopoly or cartel, he will be achieving something that no European has managed to put across to the hard-boiled business elements of America who are just now pounding away at any further loans or grants to Europe.

* * *

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that Mr. Churchill is more interested in steel and raw materials than he is in money as such and that the pinch will come when the American government is asked to allocate some of the same products to Britain for which American factories are clamoring.

If the people here can be persuaded that a stable economy can be achieved in Britain and that extreme socialism and the chaos of a disequilibrium can be avoided through American economic aid, the chances are that the prime minister will go back home with something worth while.

But already the situation has been confused by reports that European statesmen, seeing that Marshall plan aid has been tapered off, now want to bring about a shift from military aid back to economic assistance. After all, much of the money to be spent for the Eisenhower army and its equipment in Europe has been allocated to a foreign aid program many of whose ingredients will be bought inside the United States. What the Europeans want is more dollars spent in Europe for perhaps the same total appropriation.

* * *

ONE THING THAT Americans do not generally know—and that is the importance of the British Empire in the general scheme of things. Already cynical comments for example are being made that England isn't needed as a base against Russia. But the British Empire has important uranium deposits in Africa and in dozens of other ways is essential to the whole economic and political partnership which is now aligned against communism. Prime Minister Churchill may find himself up against an artificially stimulated anti-British propaganda in the next few weeks. He will be pictured as a shrewd bargainer who comes to take away by skillfull oratory hard-earned dollars that already are destined for our tax collectors. But a strong Britain is as important today as it was in June 1940 when the roof was falling in at Dunkirk. For a strained relationship now instead of a deep understanding of mutual problems as between Britain and America could be fatal to the free world.

Bluebells To Nibble

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE promises men live by vary. Some Hollywood hooligans are buoyed up from day to day by the prospect of getting new wives as soon as they can ditch the old ones, Teen-age boys, if they are in normal health, live for the next meal.

Financiers in the old days used to live for the next million; in these days they live for the next permissable fraction thereof. There are college and high school girls who would die if they knew they never could have another date. Newspapermen are kept going by the promise that some day there will be no more deadlines. So it goes.

Some of us live for summer, enduring winter because it always has led before to spring and probably will do so again. After Thanksgiving comes Christmas. Then New Year's day, then the shortest month of the year, then the first robin, the first crocus and, finally, the first day when it is spring again, birds in the trees again, June, moon, sun and fun.

But these are vague measurements. More precise and more satisfactory all the way around is the new Twillery tradition about Sam the Ram.

Sam is brought to the Twillery when Squaw Winter closes in. He stays until Big Winter diminishes It is something like going away to school, you might say, because it is Sam's first trip away from home—his first experience with life in the great world of sheep.

The Sam who visited the Twillery last winter now is a big operator in the Dakotas. This winter's Sam is an even better prospect. With a couple of months to go before his first birthday, this lunker weighs 140 pounds and is a yard wide. If he earns a good-conduct citation, there will be a position of extreme responsibility awaiting him when he finally reaches adulthood. He will lead the flock.

But that is irrelevant and immaterial. After the Sams, its the lambs— and lambs mean spring. We can see them now, the lambs They will run up and down the hillside stiff-legged, giving their sedate mamas fits. They will be curled up in snug fleecy puffs on the greening grass on days when the wind is raw. They will peer wide-eyed at intruders in the sheepfold from a point of safety back of their broad-beamed mothers. They will nibble bluebells and sniff dandelions.

There will be bluebirds over their heads and the earth will be clean and bright, just the way it is in stylized greeting cards for Easter. When the flock moves to pasture, the lambs will caper. Occasionally one will lose his mama and there will be an outburst of frantic bleating.

All of which suggests why the early-winter arrival of Sam the Ram has become a high point at the Twillery. Spring lambs are one of the promises men live by in RFD. They constitute a handle whereby the future can be grasped and held while the wintry gales whistle, the snow piles high and patience with winter wears thin. Merry Christmas, Sam-boy—and a Happy New Year for all of us.

Words of the Wise

That action is not warrantable which either fears to ask the divine blessing on its performance, or having succeeded, does not come with thanksgiving to God for its success.—Francis Quarles.

The Devil Is Sick Within

Chilling Wind From Britain

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THE chilling wind which blew across the Atlantic this past week was the news the British are in a financial jam again and expect to ask us for more help.

Shattered by the war, they were in bad shape when the shooting stopped. The U. S. gave them a loan of $3,750,000,000. That was in 1946.

And, starting in 1948, the U. S. added about $3,000,000,000 in help through the Marshall Plan. With this help the British began to get on their feet.

James Marlow

By the beginning of 1951 they were in the black and so confident of clear sailing that they said they didn't need any more Marshall Plan aid. But by the fall of 1951 they were in trouble again.

In this country those who disliked the British Socialist government probably blamed it for the downturn in Britain's fortunes, thinking that if only Winston Churchill were running the show he would by some special magic lift his country into prosperity again.

Churchill is in power now and almost his first act was to tell the British people, who have been on rationing since the war, that living would have to become even more austere.

* * *

HIS GOVERNMENT announced a cut in imports which will mean less food and other things for his people. The reason: To cut down on spending. More than 60 per cent of Britain's food has to be imported.

And it will be Churchill, or some of his men, who'll have to ask this country for help once more, probably when he comes to this country in January with his staff to visit President Truman.

But it was neither the Socialists nor Churchill who put Britain into the red again. It was the tide of events, starting with the Korean war in mid-1950 when Britain was just regaining its feet.

With the start of the Korean war this country and its allies including Britain, began to rearm. Britain plans to spend $13,000,000,0000 on her rearmament program in three years.

This dislocated the British economy. It put the British in the position of spending more than they earn. In short, they are llving beyond their means now.

* * *

THIS IS A BRIEF explanation of why:

The British are not producers. They have to import raw materials, including food, which are then put through the British factories.

The finished products are then sold abroad to make money for the British. With the money they can buy more, make more, sell more. That was the way it was going until rearmaent started.

Now big chunks of the raw materials brought in are put through the factories and come out as weapons which don't have a resale value.

The chilling part about the news is this: It raises the question of when will all this stop: when will we and our allies reach a point when they won't have to come to us for help? And how long can we keep on giving such help, raising our taxes, without going broke?

* * *

IT WOULD BE a wise man who could answer that one. We have to arm to keep the Communists from overrunning us, us and our allies.

By the same token, we can't let our allies get into an economic collapse, through their armament program, because of the danger the Communists might take over from ithin if there is collapse.

After Britain, France may have to ask us for help.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

One of the early settlers of Big Island Township was Leonard Metz, who came to Marion County in 1822. The son of German immigrants, he was born in Washington County, Pa in 1794. His father acted as a gun cleaner in the Revolutionary War. Mr. Metz volunteered for the War of 1812 and was on the march to Norfolk when peace was declared. The first year of his residence in this county Mr. Metz killed 160 deer. For 15 years the family went to the Indian mill at Upper Sandusky and he was acquainted with many of the Indians—Walkers, Abe Williams and the chief, Warpole.

Congress Quiz

Q—Now that all the shouting has died down, just what is Congress doing to stamp out the corruption revealed by the Senate crime investigating committee?

A—The committee drew up and introduced 15 bills aimed at controlling organized crime. One bill, to keep mobsters out of the interstate transportation industries, was passed by the Senate. Four sweeping bills to stop organized gambling were approved by a Senate committee. Two bills clamping down on narcotics sales were enacted into law.

Men have been drowned trying to swim to safety with heavy loot. Lighten your load of perishable plunder. Hold fast to eternal necessities: "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." —Luke 12:15.

Friendship Train

ORLEANS, France — (AP) — Children of this ancient French city have a daily reminder of American friendship—a tiny train that puffs and whistles and rings a bell as it hauls excited little passengers. The train, goal of a $4,500 drive in Sedgwic County, in south central Kansas, recently was presented to the children of Orleans by Miss Edith Hedges, of Wichita, Kansas. Her father, Bert Hedges, Wichita businessman, is chairman of the Wichita-Orleans committee in UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization). The two cities are "sister cities" in UNESCO.

Stop the Clock

BERKELY, Calif., (AP)—Have you wanted to stop the clock when time seemed to be getting away from you? If you could get off the earth and hurtle through space at the speed of light—186,000 miles per second—earth time would never change for you, says Dr. William B. Fretter, associate professor of physics at the University of California. "Similary," says the professor, "if it were possible to send your wrist watch flying through space at the speed of light, it would never tick off another second of earth time."

Bird Man

CARLSBAD, N. M. —(AP)— Jimmie Cox not only doesn't mind getting a bird but he actually goes after them. Superintendent of New Mexico's game farm at La Huerta, Cox will soon go to the Middle East for six months of study and collection of exotic game birds. Among other birds he hopes to bring back to New Mexico 500 chukars to provide the state with a chukar hunting season within ten years. The chukar is a fast and elusive bird of the partridge family and about 2½ times the size of a quail.

"Take It From There, Boys!"

PHILLIPS

Two things are certain in New York as a result of the recent election: (1) Frank Costello will be the loneliest man at lunch in America; (2) the City Council meetings will come within the realm of the dramatic critics, the fight experts and whoever writes "New Acts" for Variety magazine. City Hall sessions from now on may rank with the special events at the Met, Carnegie Hall, the Palace Theater and Madison Square Garden. For the first time in history a city government may be in a position to get a sponsor and open with a commercial. Rudy Halley, famous Kefauver Crime Committee quizmaster, elected to a job second to that of Mayor of the world's largest city, favors telecasting. Even if he doesn't get it at once, it seems bound to come in time. Gotham government from here in should be so lively that sponsors will bid for the rights. (Cigarets are out. The line about 1,000 doctors not finding a single case of throat irritation would not jibe with Halley's voice.)

Any product whose commercial began with "Do you feel low and dispirited? Do you suffer from headaches?" wouldn't be stood for by the Tammany councilmen, nor would "Have you a money problem?" You can imagine the Democratic reaction to a heating-appliance sponsor's "Do you have trouble getting the heat on these days?" And any commercial emphasizing presto gravies and puddings . . . oh, boy! Mr. Halley obviously would favor a cleansing fluid that dynamites dirt.

Rudolph is certain to be not only a stormy petrel, but a stormy petrel with tortoise-shell glasses! Also a gadfly that says, "Let me refresh your recollection." He will be outvoted by the council make-up, but he should worry about votes. It's his ability as a watchdog, a pointer-outer and a kid with a top, Hooper rating that will count. Video put fame into his lap. He owes more to television than Kukla, Fran and Ollie, Betty Furness or Faye Emerson. Rudy couldn't have done any better if the Kefauver program had featured a box-top contest and a song "Be scrappy, go quizzy!"

* * *

There are scores of opinions on what won last week's great victory. We think the chief contribution was the Tammany revelation that Halley had once contributed $50 to the O'Dwyer campaign. This made Rudy the shrewdest investor of the decade. Through O'Dwyer's performance, Halley got a million dollars worth of fame. He might even wind up in Albany or the White House. (Is that bad for $50?)

The Real News Newsreel

"Show Biz" by Abel Green and Joe Laurie Jr., is a best seller. . . . We know a gambler who read about the $50 Federal registration card for gamblers and has applied for a $100 permit to fix games. . . . Waldorf-Astoria has just put in the largest multiple outlet television system in the country, with video in 2,500 rooms. That's like taking a video with you to the Met. . . . Man who staged the most sensational mayoralty race in the country, losing by 15 votes out of 65,000 cast in New Haven, is Dick Lee, former reporter and now Yale University public relation's man. . . . Funniest airwave jingle is the one ending "You don't have to go to a university to know when you are "thir-sit-ty." . . . A new postage stamp commemorating the Battle of Brooklyn is out and Ima Dodo thinks it commemorates the first Flatbush subway rush. . . . A horse race was stopped in Chicago by a blizzard. . . . Couldn't they have used reindeer with shorn antlers? "Come on Donder and Blitzen!" . . . Elmer Twitchell is at work on a play about a good-natured alcoholic and will call it Sousa Pacific. . . . President Truman is at Key West. This shows he has it all over the other Big Four members as a judge of proper peace atmospheres.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It as Friday, Nov. 14, 1941.

President Roosevelt, asking the CIO United Mine Workers and Steel Company heads to continue negotiations to avert a strike in the captive coal mines, told them that "the government will never compel" the minority non-union miners affected by the dispute to join the union.

American merchantmen regained complete freedom of the seas by act of Congress, and with it the right to mount guns and shoot if attacked. The vote was 212 to 194.

W. R. Conaway and son Ward of Cardington, publishers of the Morrow County Independent, a weekly newspaper at Cardington, announced they had purchased the Union Register, Mt. Gilead weekly publication, from the Apex Publishing Co. of Cincinnati.

Appointment of Dr. Frederick G. Smith of Durfee drive as an instructor in the department of surgical research, college of medicine at Ohio State University, was announced by the university board.

The 1941 Harding High School football squad won the N.C.O. League championship in a 66-0 victory at Galion and ended the season unscored on, one of few teams in the state to have that distinction. The Harding team became the first schoolboy eleven in Marion history to finish its season without a single point being scored against it. The team was under the guidance of Coach William O. Williams and Assistant Coach George Niemi.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, Nov. 14, 1931.

Frank Circone, 20-year-old Columbus gangster and bank bandit, was sought by police throughout Ohio following his escape the night before from the Union County jail at Marysville. Circone was awaiting grand jury action on charges of robbing the Farmers' Deposit Bank at Richwood of $10,000 in a daylight holdup Oct. 23. Circone made his break for liberty while walking in the county jail "bull pen."

F. O. Rudolph, who had been connected with the Marion YMCA for nearly seven years, accepted appointment as physical director of the Bay City, Mich., YMCA, effective Dec. 1.

It was announced that the Marion Mimes, little theater organization, would open the Mimes playhouse at Bellefontaine Ave. and Davids St. the following Wednesday night with presentation of "The Whole Town's Talking." The playhouse was formerly the Oakland Theater.

Everett Harris was elected master of Bowling Green Grange for his third year.

Thomas Hedges, freshman at Ohio Northern, Ada, was visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Hedges of E. Center St.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers of Forest St. had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Odell Thompson of Newark.

Daughters Of Isabella Seat New Officers

Mrs. Riedy, State Regent, Presides At Installation

State officers and regents from a number of cities were present for the installation ceremonies and initiation held by Our Lady of Victory Circle, Daughters of Isabella, Sunday. Mrs. Louise Riedy of Sandusky, state regent, presided for the installation of officers headed by Mrs. William Simmons. Preceding the installation a class of 40 candidates was initiated. A buffet supper followed the afternoon program.

Installed with Mrs. Simmons were Mrs. Charlotte Hertenstein, vice regent; Miss Marie Wolf, past regent; Miss Geneva Kruskamp, recording secretary; Mrs. Agnes Benson, financial secretary; Mrs. Gladys Giles, treasurer; Mrs. Rosella Cochran, chancellor; Mrs. Irene McKim, custodian. Miss Lorene Shockley, monitor; Miss Margaret Lawler, three-year trustee; Mrs. Mary Hamilton, first guide; Miss Lucy Wolf, second guide; Mrs. Mary New, inner guard; Mrs. Mary Cusic, outer guard; Mrs. Marie Kraft, banner bearer; Mrs. Ruth Heckman, musician.

Three Degrees

The three degrees were exemplified by a group of officers under the direction of Miss Margaret Lawler for the initiation. A choir of 20 members, in chancel robes, furnished the music.

At the close of the ceremonies the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., chaplain, gave a talk and led the group in praying the Rosary for world peace. The afternoon ceremonies were followed by a buffet supper.

Guests included Mrs. Riedy, state regent, Mrs. Mildred Bowman of Sidney, state vice regent, Miss Mary Connor, of London, state trustee, and the following regents; Mrs. Anna McDermott, Fremont; Miss Carmel Huth, Fostoria. Mrs. Agnes Ernest, Tiffin; Mrs. William Huth, Sandusky; Mrs. Marion Daniels, Sidney. Members also were present from Fostoria, Tiffin, Sandusky, Sidney, Fremont and Galion Circles.

Decorations

For the buffet supper the table was centered with gold colored chrysanthemums in red and white containers and at either side were red and white tapers in gold candlesticks. Appointments were in the circle colors of red, gold and white. The closing prayer was by the Rev. Father Urban Wiggins, assistant pastor of St Mary Catholic Church.

In charge of music was Miss Gertrude Lawler, Mrs. Ruth Heckman, Mrs. Mary Hamilton and Miss Mary Conroy, the hospitality committee was headed by Mrs. Edith Cooper, and supper arrangements were in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Margaret Deininger.

Mrs. Simmons, regent, announced a meeting Nov. 20, in Moira Hall, when a covered dish dinner will be held at 6:30 p. m. Members are asked to bring gifts for the annual pantry shower

OAKLAND WSWS MEETS

"A trip around the world to various mission stations" was given at a meeting of the WSWS of Oakland EUB Church Thursday night. Mrs. George Leedom was hostess in her home on Henry St. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Martha Vermillion, and Mrs Rose Buckley offered opening prayer. Members voted to have a public thankoffering and stewardship meeting in the near future. Committee reports were heard. Mrs. Mary Travis reported three boxes of clothing sent to Korea and six blankets given to the Community Day drive of the Council of Church Women. Scripture was by Mrs. Lulah Williamson. Mrs Doris Buckley directed a program, and the group sang Prayers were by Mrs. Vermillion, Mrs. Travis, Mrs. Dwight Williams and Mrs. Peggy Vance. The "trip" was given by eight members. Mrs Vance sang, and Mrs. Florence Graham read a paper on "Migrants" written by Mrs. J. R. Dallas. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Ruth Oiler.

MEDITERRANEAN WATERSPOUT. This waterspout formed itself off the Calabrian coast, near Reggio Calabria in the toe of the Italian boot opposite Sicily, during cloudbursts which lashed southern Italy early this month. The waterfront of Reggio Calabria is in the foreground.

In the Service

Pvt. Richard H. Babcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles R. Babcock of 346 Belmont St., has completed processing at the 2053rd Reception Center at Fort Meade, Md., and is assigned to the 101st Airborne Division, Camp Breckinridge, Ky., for Army basic training. A 1947 graduate of Harding High School, Babcock was employed with Brown Decorators before entering the service last month. The private's wife, the former Miss Martha Simpson of Forest, is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simpson of Forest. The young couple have a son, Kenneth, 2.

Sgt. John R. Aller of Bucyrus recently arrived on Heidelberg Military Post in the U. S. Zone of Germany and was assigned to duty as a tank commander with Company C of the 40th Tank Battalion stationed at Mannheim near Heidelberg. A graduate of Bucyrus High School, Aller was employed by the New York Central Railroad in Bucyrus before he entered military service in October, 1950. Prior to his overseas assignment to the European Command he was stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. The sergeant's wife, Gertrude, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Halderness of Galion.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Orians of south of Carey, have received word that their son, Pfc. Donald J. Orians, is stationed at Furth, Germany, a member of the military police railway guard.

Some "eye-opening" facts for every American motorist:
Maybe you have missed the big fact about Kaiser!
"Countless friends have written me declaring that the Kaiser is America's most beautiful car. Naturally, that's heart-warming to hear.
"But I'm asking you to forget Kaiser's beauty—for a moment, at least—and consider a far more important fact about the Kaiser.
"That fact is the quality of Kaiser engineering. True functional engineering that has created the most perfectly balanced chassis on the road...and the smoothest, most effortless ride! True economy engineering that makes the Kaiser serve longer at less cost than the cars you've known up to now!
"And the only way to know this fact is to drive the Kaiser yourself. Let your own experience prove that the Kaiser is your soundest investment by far!"
Henry J. Kaiser

1951 Kaiser DeLuxe 4 Door Sedan. One of 6 body styles, 12 models. Hydra-Matic Drive available in all models at extra cost.
More "eye-opening" reasons why you ought to own the 1951 Kaiser today!
Kaiser comfort is greater comfort! Years ahead of other cars in riding luxury, the lowest center of gravity of any car today—plus aircraft-type shock absorbers matched to synchronized springs!
Kaiser power is thriftier power! You get better economy with Kaiser's High-Torque Supersonic Engine! Flash Chrome rings, 100% counterbalanced crankshaft, full-length water jackets!
Kaiser safety is greater safety! Bigger brakes than most cars. And as an extra protection, Kaiser gives you the famous Safety-Cushion Padded Instrument Panel!
That's why Kaiser value is better value! Drive it—see for yourself! Add up all the many extra advantages and you'll realize what a smart investment it is for the years ahead!
Built to better the best on the road!

Marion Garden Center Notes

CARE OF EVERGREENS

New evergreen plantings in exposed spots should be protected to prevent windburn during the winter months Thorough watering is the first step Then comes a heavy mulch of leaves, peatmoss, straw or hay. Finally, drive in several stakes around the plants and stretch burlap over them on the exposed side of the planting If the plants are protected the first winter, under ordinary circumstances they will require no protection in the second and succeeding years.

Personal Mention

Cpl and Mrs Richard L White of West Point, Ky. were weekend guests of Mr and Mrs Fred White of the Smeltzer Rd and Mr and Mrs H W Stayner of Carhart St Cpl White is stationed with the armed forces at Fort Knox, Ky.

Talk With Judy

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK

THE girl sat on the edge of the stage, in the dirt and patches of a tramp, a fright wig on her head and huge clown shoes on her feet dangling in the orchestra pit.

She sang very softly "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and you could honestly have heard a pin drop in the Palace. This was the magic that happens once in a thousand times on Broadway, and the audience knew it.

Inez Robb

Now the spotlight focused on Judy Garland's dirty face and the ludicrous fright wig as she sang "If happy little bluebirds fly beyond the rainbow, why, oh, why can't I?" And there wasn't a dry eye in the house not even Judy's. The big tears rolled down her cheeks as the haunting voice filled the old home of vaudeville.

Today, all the theatrical world is asking itself "What happened to Judy Garland?"

* * *

TWENTY-FOUR hours before she collapsed on the stage of the Palace Theatre, where her comeback has been the sensation of the current theatrical season, I talked with her in her back-stage dressing room.

Yet I have no clue to what caused the collapse of this wistful girl who always tugs on the heart. I left the theatre with the impression that this gifted and appealing girl had finally begun to make peace with herself and her really exceptional talents.

Judy seemed in the pink physically, her large brown eyes clear and sparkling. And she was in cheerful possession of herself. In contrast to the moods of despair in which she was so often engulfed in her final years in Hollywood.

"Look, I'm happy," she said to me at one point. "I'm having a wonderful time."

* * *

I CAME BACK to the office 24-hours before she collapsed in the theatre and was taken to the hospital. I wrote my impressions then. Here they are:

"This is the best thing that ever happened to me and I thank God for it," she said. "It's done something for me that I needed awfully badly: it's given me some confidence in myself.

"All my life I've needed confidence in myself and I've never had it before," continued the girl whose 16, star-studded years in Hollywood brought her neither happiness, confidence nor repose and finally ended in an attempt at suicide 18 months ago.

"This is really the best thing that ever happened to me," repeated Judy, 26 of those 29 years have been spent in the hard discipline of the theatre, earning a living for herself and others.

* * *

"I BEGAN TO feel that confidence at the Palladium," Judy went on, speaking of her tremendously successful engagement at London's famous Variety Theatre last April. It was her first appearance after her attempt to take her own life at the crux of mounting personal and professional difficulties.

"I was fat as a pig and I fell on the stage the first night in London, but they liked me. They liked me!" said the girl in the old padded bathrobe whose face was still smeared with clown makeup. And it was plain that this had been a revelation and stunning psychological bracer to Judy Garland.

"But then I was afraid to come home. I was scared about opening at the Palace. And then to have the same thing happen at home! To have them like me! I can't tell you what it's done to me. It sounds corney to say you love your country and it's hard to put into words. But it's the best thing that ever happened to me. I do thank God for it.

"THE AUDIENCES are an emotionally overwhelming experience to me. It does seem like real love coming up over the footlights to me, doesn't it?" she asked earnestly.

"They take me to their hearts, don't they?" she wanted to know. "Don't they?"

"That's why I cry," she went on. "Its because they seem to love me and they give me confidence and I need it so much. I've sung 'Over the Rainbow' at least 8,000 times and here I am, bawling like a calf every time.

"I stayed up all night, the night I opened here, to read the critics' notices," said the girl whom the critics hailed as one of the great performers and minstrels of the age.

"I don't want to sound like a conceited fool, but the notices were all kinda consistently wonderful, weren't they? I'm the luckiest girl in town, and I knew it right then."

Signed for eight weeks at the Palace, in hope that with her old Broadway could revive vaudeville, Judy's engagement has now been extended for three months. The Palace is hoping she will remain for six. Her take-home pay before taxes is estimated at $15,000 weekly.

It's a toss-up which revival is the most sensational. Judy's or vaudeville's.

P. S. Or it was, until her collapse on Broadway seemed sadly parallel to those that interrupted her Hollywood career.

Get Back To English

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

SOME PEOPLE complain they don't know what the government is up to.

This could be because of two reasons:

1. Governments themselves — local, state and national — don't know what they actually are doing.

2. If they do know, they have lost the art of letting the people know what they are doing.

Enzo Gaspari believes the latter is the case. He is a young and energetic New York State senator from the Bronx who has embarked on perhaps the most hopeless quest of our day.

Hal Boyle

His goal: to discover a way to make governmental acts and proposals intelligible to the voters.

"People want to know more about their government — what it is doing and what it plans to do," he said. "They have never been more eager for information. But they have to be told in a language they can understand."

* * *

GASPARI HAS BEEN searching for a common language that people in government and those who are governed can understand. He figures the best bet is old-fashioned plain English.

But the trouble with that is that only the voters remember it any more. Legislators write their bills in a cloudy legal terminology that even the high courts find difficulty in interpreting. And administrative officials are lost behind a misty verbal curtain of gobbledegook. To an outsider, an exchange of letters between them is as mysterious as the scratchings of two turkeys in barnyard snow.

"I have to send a weekly letter to 200 civic organizations in my district to try to give them some insight into what is happening when the legislature is in session," Gaspari said. "Yes, I write the letters in English."

* * *

THE 36-YEAR-OLD official, who spent nine years working himself through law school at night, has about given up his campaign to have legislative acts written in English understandable to the average college graduate.

"When I got ready to introduce my first bill, I wrote it out and submitted it to the legislative bill drafting committee," He recalled. "I got the redrafted version back the next day. It took me two days to figure out what it said—and I'm a lawyer."

There were more than 8,000 bills submitted at the last session of the New York State legislature, he said, all filled with technical legal terminology. This works a hardship on the legislators themselves as well as the voters.

"When you pick up a sheaf of 50 bills and don't know what they are about—50 bills that may come up in a single day—it is hard to act on them intelligently," he said.

* * *

GASPARI POINTED OUT that most amendment proposals to be submitted to voters are now rephrased into English by the newspapers, and praised the press for this service.

"But the people responsible for drafting bills should preface each of them with a short, simple statement of what the bill is about," he said. "And there should be more consultation with the people affected before legislators even submit bills."

There is another possible solution, but it is too idealistic to be practical. All government officials should be periodically forced to take civil service examinations in the art of writing the common man's language—simple English.

The trouble with that is too many politicians might find it depressing to be understood by the ordinary voter.

New York Election

By Raymond Moley

THE ELECTION of Rudolph Halley to the important office of president of the City Council of New York has been attributed to the general wave of indignation against corruption in government. This also explains the result in Philadelphia and in several other places over the country.

But there were factors in the New York City election which deserve a great deal of attention and which have a distinct bearing on the 1952 prospects.

MOLEY

Taking a leaf from the book of the Dewey of the 1930's, Halley presented himself as a fearless enemy of crime and a gang-buster. He was also promoted as the exponent of the Liberal Party—a party which favors a wide measure of socialism short of communism. His opposition to the present 2 per cent city sales tax won the votes of many people who are coming to be sharply conscious of taxes generally.

* * *

THE SINCERITY of this gesture toward lower taxes can be questioned, because the Abraham Lincoln of the New York Liberal Party, the late Fiorello La Guardia, originally sponsored and secured enactment of the New York City sales tax. The phoniness of this issue of Halley's is further underlined by the advocacy by his Liberal Party of all sorts of Fair Deal welfare which would, if enacted, make the present tax burden seem puny in comparison.

But aside from these means of vote catching, Halley's victory was attended by other very significant portents. The most important of these was the evidence of continued decay in the once invincible New York Democratic machine. For more than 20 years the most powerful figure in New York City politics has been Edward J. Flynn, boss of the Bronx and formerly chairman of the Democratic National Committee. His influence with President Roosevelt was very great, almost decisive. Federal patronage flowed into the Bronx, where Flynn's word was law. Great Democratic majorities were always easy to get. It was the most securely held and bossed of all the boroughs. Even the Republican leader there was held in hostage by a good job which Flynn permitted him to hold.

* * *

BUT EVER SINCE the death of Roosevelt there have been evidences of decay in the Bronx. In 1946, Flynn lost a congressman to a Republican. This was an astonishing turn of events. In 1945 it was William O'Dwyer who put himself into the race for mayor. Flynn reluctantly had to accept him. In 1950 Flynn took a double beating. His candidate for governor was a Bronx congressman who made a deplorable showing against Dewey. And Vincent Impellitteri defied Flynn and roundly defeated Flynn's man for mayor.

Meanwhile, the Bronx district leaders are growing old. For too long they have lived peacefully in the Flynn welfare state of politics.

The Bronx vote this year was low, which is always a reflection on political leadership. In 1949 when O'Dwyer was running he had nearly 50 per cent of the vote. Last Tuesday the Democrat received 29 per cent. This is not the Bronx of old.

And in the other boroughs except Manhattan the Democrats did very badly.

* * *

ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT portent in the New York City vote was the strong showing of the Republican candidate for Council President, Congressman Latham of Queens. He campaigned mostly on national issues, with the Truman Administration as a target. He made no "me-too" appeal, but talked conservative Republicanism. If he had been better known and better financed, he might have won.

So while the Philadelphia election may place heavy odds against Republican chances of carrying Pennsylvania next year, the New York City result should favor a Republican victory in New York State.

EVA PERON VOTES FROM HOSPITAL BED. Eva Peron, wife of Argentine president Juan D Peron, votes from hospital bed in Beunos Aires hospital where she has been confined for an operation. Although not a candidate, Eva always was linked with Peron's campaign speeches and she usually was called "The standard bearer of Peronism." Holding the ballot box is election official Angelica Bertone. Peron was reelected by a large margin.

Cardington Play Planned

Final rehearsal is being held for the play, "The Bishop's Mantle," to be presented Thursday and Friday nights by the junior class of the Cardington High School. A different cast will be seen in the production each night. The play will be presented in the school auditorium.

The story centers around a young minister who has just received his first pastorate which is located in a slum district, although the members themselves are wealthy.

The casts include Don Ocker and Morris Westbrook, Noel Underwood and Jerry Decker; Tim Hardman and John Wilson, Leo Gattshall and Melvin Robinson; Eddie Hempfield and Frank Curl, Pat Long and Charlotte Patterson, Donna Hart and Janice Sparks, Jacqueline Mason and Ella Gossett, Judith Witter and Geraldine Maceyk, Irma Mateer and Evelyn Bowman; Shirley Fowble and Iadell Carpenter; Betty Strohl and Nita Richey.

The play is being directed by Miss Fae Burr, speech instructor in the school. Admission is 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Scientist Is Indicted On Loyalty Count

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14—(AP)—A scientist who worked for 12 years at the Army's secret testing ground for all its weapons is charged today with trying to hide his one-time membership in the Communist party.

A federal grand jury late yesterday indicted 40 - year - old Franklin Victor Reno of Englewood, Colo., for concealing his party membership in a loyalty questionnaire he signed in Nov. 15, 1948, while working at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

He first was pointed out back in 1948 by Whittaker Chambers, former Soviet spy courier.

Chambers identified Reno as the person who supplied him with bombsight secrets for Russia.

Reno has not been arrested although he contacted the U. S. marshal's office at Denver and offered to report when wanted.

Reno's indictment was held up until nearly the last minute. After tomorrow—three years from the date he signed the loyalty statement—he could not have been charged, for he would have become legally immune under the statute of limitations.

U. S. District Attorney Bernard J. Flynn said he received the file on Reno only two weeks ago. He said he knew no reason for the delay after Reno's alleged affiliation was brought up by Chambers in 1948 other than to permit as much investigation as possible.

GALION HOSPITAL REPORT

GALION — William LaFever of near Lexington is receiving treatment for a knee injury at City Hospital, which he suffered while playing football at his home, Sunday. Tommy McElroy, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt C. McElroy of Galion, underwent emergency appendicitis operation Monday afternoon at City Hospital. He is a first grade student at the North School.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS

At a recent meeting of the rural St. Paul's Luther League, two scrapbooks were made to be placed in the waiting room of Marion City Hospital. Preparation was under way to send Christmas boxes to two members of St. Paul's Church who are in the armed forces. The meeting was held at the home of Marilyn Mack. Contest awards went to Mrs. Leroy Fetter and Joan Rengert.
